DIRIGIBLE MAY SOAR OVER VICTORIA

Graf Zeppelin May Look Down On City Early On Saturday

Commander Hugo Eckener Announces Visit to Seattle; Revised Air Route Brings Victoria Into Direct Course of Giant Airship; Expected to Leave Tokio To-day.

Southern Vancouver Island will probably be the first settled portion of the North American continent to view the Graf Zeppelin in her record-making round-the-world flight. The Graf was scheduled to take off from Kasumigaura Field, near Tokio, at noon to-day, Pacific Coast time, but a minor accident left doubts as to whether she would be able to start this afternoon.

Late last night Commander Hugo Eckener definitely announced in Tokio that he would fly the Graf Zeppelin over Seattle unless weather conditions prevented. The normal Great Circle course will be followed, and this will bring the airship over southern Vancouver Island.

Commander Eckener refused to express an opinion as to the time of arrival over the waters of Puget Sound, but anticipated that the journey to Los Angeles would require from thirty-six to forty-eight hours of travel. Allowing for change in time, this would bring the Graf Zeppelin over Vancouver Island during the early hours of Saturday.

Victoria is directly in the route of the proposed flight, and if the weather is favorable, a good view of the Graf Zeppelin should be possible. Much interest has been aroused by the probability that the giant airship will pass over Canadian soil, as such a visit to Victoria and Vancouver Island will constitute a record, by establishment of the first occasion on which a dirigible has been seen in the air over British Columbia.

FIFTY YEARS A NEWSPAPERMAN

E. H. Macklin, President of Manitoba Free Press, Honored To-day

Winnipeg, Aug. 2.—E. H. Macklin, president and general manager of the Manitoba Free Press, to-day celebrated his fiftieth anniversary of entry into the newspaper business, for he joined the staff of the Toronto Globe in 1879, remaining there till 1899, when he came west to The Free Press in Winnipeg.

Never connected with any other business, he holds an almost unique position among the newspapermen of the continent, and his associates marked the occasion by the unveiling of an oil portrait of himself this afternoon.

FRIENDS GATHER

The function took place in the presence of a number of newspaper friends from all parts of Canada, for quite apart from his work on The Free Press, Mr. Macklin has been to the fore for many years in the co-operative movements of Canadian newspaper publishers. Thus he is past president of the Canadian Daily Newspaper Association, which represents the business side of newspaper publication, while his connection with the co-operative news association goes back to its beginnings in Winnipeg in 1907.

Mr. Macklin being among the founders of the Western Associated Press, its treasurer until 1913 and its president from then until 1917 it was merged in the national association, the Canadian Press when he became first vice-president.

At the annual meeting of the Canadian Press in Vancouver in 1924 the office of honorary president was specially created to do honor to Mr. Macklin as a mark of the esteem and affection in which he is held by his fellow members from coast to coast.

MOST IMMIGRANTS CONTENTED HERE DECLARES FORKE

Ottawa, Aug. 21.—"The proportion of dissatisfied men is exceedingly small in comparison with the number who came out to Canada and are content," declared Hon. Robert Forke, Minister of Immigration, here to-day, commenting on the dispatch from Winnipeg which reports between 200 and 300 British immigrants waiting there to be deported to Great Britain.

The dispatch said that these men were being supported by the Dominion Immigration officials; that a number had already been deported to the United Kingdom, and that the main burden of their complaint was that farmers had refused to pay them $50 a month and board, which, they allege, was promised them.

ZEPPELIN TAKE-OFF DELAYED

Minor Accident Halts Flight For Los Angeles Set For Noon To-day

Dirigible Seeking to Beat World Circling Record Gets Slight Setback

Kasumigaura, Japan, Aug. 21 4:34 a.m.—A minor accident to-day delayed the departure of the Graf Zeppelin for Los Angeles, which was planned for 4 a.m. Thursday, noon to-day, Victoria time.

Dr. Eckener said repairs to the struts of the rear motor gondola would require eight hours.

"I hope to be able to start this evening," he said, "although we may be delayed until to-morrow."

While the dirigible was being drawn from the hangar, a gondola containing the rear-most motor struck the earth sharply, breaking a strut. The airship was returned to the hangar. It was uncertain whether it would be possible to start across the Pacific to-day.

FOREST FIRE FURY WANES

Blazes in British Columbia Timber Checked as Weather Changes

Nelson, Aug. 21.—With a slowly-falling barometer, which forecasts rain within the next forty-eight hours, and with a quiet day experienced without wind, forestry officials here are more jubilant than they have been for weeks over the forest fire situation.

Practically all fires in the southern portion are well in hand or being put out.

OUT OF DANGER

Slocan City and Nelson are both out of danger from fires which Sunday and Monday threatened these communities. Hall Creek fire above Nelson has burned itself practically out, and but two spot fires are commanding attention.

Slocan City blaze, the original Evans Creek fire, is controlled unless winds stir it up.

The worst situation at present in the Kootenays is in the Little Slocan River Valley, where a large crew of men are fighting to keep a fire from slaughtering six miles long. This fire Sunday trapped four men, who were later rescued by others who hacked their way through the brush to the rescue.

On the main Kettle River in the boundary country, 150 men are battling to check a fire that has already burned over 25,000 acres and is threatening Wallace Mountain, where hundreds of mineral claims are located and a million dollars worth of mine buildings exist. This fire will be held unless winds occur.

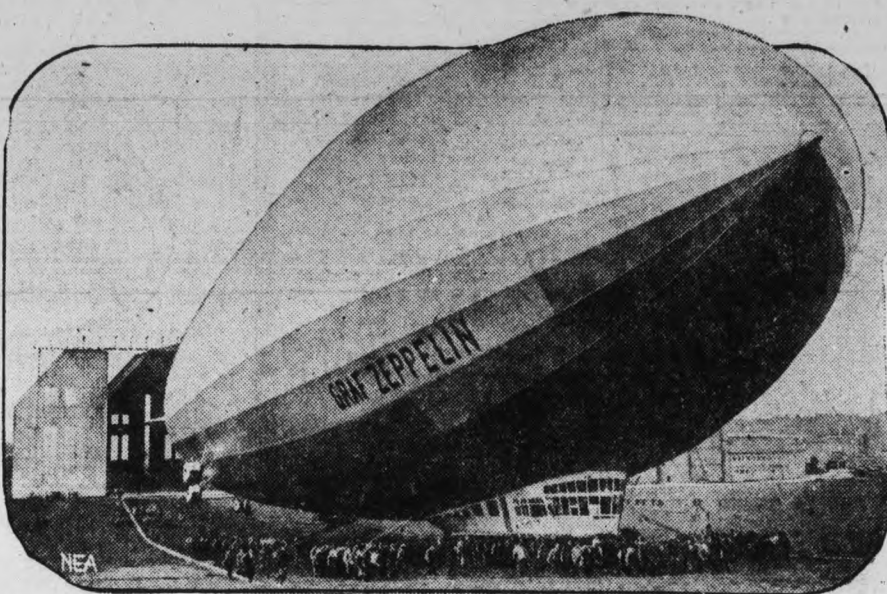

Forty additional men were sent from Rossland yesterday to aid in the control of the flames at Lamb Creek, near Paulson.

A crew of men from the M. L. Bruce Company, lumber operators, is fighting flames on Goat Creek, which are threatening the company's stand of timber.

In the Lardeau there are three valley fires which are making headway to the large amount of windfalls.

Warm days and cool nights continue throughout the south interior.

FINE JERSEY CATTLE TAKE PRIZES HERE

Herd of David Spencer Limited Win Over Dozen First Awards

Dominion Experimental Farm Also Makes Fine Showing in Cattle Section

Taking over a dozen first awards in the Jersey section of the cattle show at the Provincial Exhibition, the herd of David Spencer Limited lived up to its reputation of being one of the best ever shown here. The prize three-year-old bull, renowned in cattle shows throughout the West, again gained first honors in its class, while the young and calf herds were both adjudged best in the exhibition.

To J. M. Landry went first honors for the best Jersey cow in the show and the best B.C. district herd entered in competition. By winning the former event, Landry gained the Canadian Bank of Commerce special prize.

A. E. Dumville also carried off a number of awards in the Jersey class. In addition to gaining first honors in the section for three-year-old bulls, Spencer's herd annexed laurels in the sections for junior bull calves, four-year-old cows with yearly records, cow senior calves, cow junior calves, cow junior champions, exhibition, breeders, young and calf herds.

The prize for the best exhibit of two animals in the Jersey section also fell to this herd.

The Dominion Experimental Farm was also successful in taking a number of events, but had entries chiefly in the young cow sections.

WEST COAST HALIBUT IS LANDED HERE

First Consignment By Island Packing Co. Delivered at Victoria Cold Storage Plant

J. Byrne, Master of Trawler, Presented With Gold Watch at Brief Ceremony To-day

The first consignment of halibut from the west coast of Vancouver Island was loaded into the freezing tanks of the Victoria Cold Storage plant at Ogden Point this morning. The shipment was brought by a trawler of the Island Packing Company, which made port early to-day.

Capt. James Byrne, master of the fishing vessel, was presented in a brief ceremony with a handsome gold watch in signal of the event of landing the first fish taken off the west coast of the Island at the new plant of the Victoria Cold Storage and Terminal Warehouse Limited.

The shipment is part of the large contract taken by the Island Packing Company, under which 8,000,000 pounds of fish are to be landed here from the west coast.

As the vessel came alongside the electric hoist of the cold storage plant picked up the fish direct from her holds and conveyed it into the plant to be cleaned and processed in the special brine freezing system. The new machinery worked without hitch, and is giving every satisfaction, stated H. G. Brown, president of the Victoria Cold Storage and Terminal Warehouse Limited.

"The new steamer for the coastal service," said Sir Henry, "will be found to be the last word in speed and comfort. The chief object will be to give the best possible service to the public and the intention is to try to arrange schedules so that they will not compete directly with existing C.P.R. service as to sailing hours."

"We are going after the Alaskan business, especially the summer tourist trade."

Asked if the company would go after mail contracts, the president said: "Yes, we will be after all the business we can get."

The tourist business is the best business Canada has, Sir Henry declared.

Mauretania Three Hours Behind Bremen

Plymouth, Eng., Aug. 21.—The British steamship Mauretania, former Atlantic blue ribbon liner, arrived here to-day, failing by three hours and nineteen minutes to beat the eastward record of the new German liner Bremen for a transatlantic crossing.

The speedy Cunarder completed its eastward journey in four days, seventeen hours and forty-nine minutes, beating its own record by four hours. The Bremen's record was four days fourteen hours and thirty minutes. The Mauretania's average speed was 27.22 knots.

Ominous Aspect Given to Manchurian Argument By Military Demonstrations

HOPE FOR BOY FLIERS ABANDONED

Silence Shrouds Westward Transatlantic Attempt of Two Swiss Aviators

Were Youngest and Least Experienced to Attempt Perilous Crossing

New York, Aug. 21.—The same silence which has shrouded out-comes of most other westward transatlantic flight ventures to-day closed the end of the attempt of two Swiss boy aviators, Oscar Kaeser and Kurt Luescher, to reach New York from London.

Nothing has been heard or seen of the two airmen and their snow-white plane, the "Jung Schweizerland" or "Young Switzerland" since it circled a village on Terceira Island, Azores at 1 p.m. EST Monday and continued north and west toward Newfoundland, Nova Scotia and New York.

There was scant hope that either the plane or its crew of two had survived the great adventure.

SIGHTED FOR ONCE

Leaving Lunenburg, a village near Lisbon, Portugal, at 7:30 a.m. (1:30 a.m. EST) Monday, the young Swissmen were sighted but once, by the German steamship Werra, 175 miles west of Lisbon, before it reached the Azores.

The two aviators, maintaining their average speed of ninety miles an hour might have been expected to be in the neighborhood of Cape Race, Nfld., at 4 a.m. EST yesterday and at Halifax, where they had planned to stop for refueling, at 10 a.m.

The two aviators were the youngest and least experienced ever to attempt the dangerous crossing, which although made once by the German plane Bremen, has come to be regarded as suicidal by aviators. Kaeser was but twenty-one years of age, Luescher twenty-two. Both began flying in 1927.

Their plane was a French-made Farman with a single 230-horsepower motor, a type of proved worth. Luescher, the navigator, confessed upon leaving Lisbon his knowledge of the mariner's science was limited, but said he had handled a sextant and knew something of making calculations, and expected he could get by.

The plane carried no radio, but was equipped with a rubber lifeboat, rubber lifesaving belts, and apparatus for distilling sea water. The plane itself probably could not remain aloft long.

NO WORD OF RESCUE

Ships at sea, nine of them in the course of the aviators, were asked to report any word of them, but without result. If the plane came down on the Atlantic near a ship and the airmen were saved, the ship could only have been one without wireless since otherwise there probably would have been some word of the rescue.

Washington, Aug. 21.—Admiral Chas. F. Hughes, chief of naval operations, to-day broadcast an appeal to all merchant vessels and an order to all naval vessels in the North Atlantic to maintain a lookout for the lost Swiss aviators, Oscar Kaeser and Kurt Luescher.

Shelo, Sask., Aug. 21.—Annie Pasowest has been placed under arrest in connection with the murder of her husband, Nick Pasowest, who was found shot to death August 1. John Pasowest, who confessed to killing his father, is at present in custody at Prince Albert.

French Air Ace Will Chase Graf In Globe Race

Le Bourget, France, Aug. 21.—Dieudonne Coste, French air ace, announced this afternoon he would take off at 5 a.m. to-morrow on a flight around the world in pursuit of the German dirigible Graf Zeppelin which he hoped to overtake and pass before she could reach Lakehurst and New York.

The French aviator, who has already made a flight around the world since he crossed the South Atlantic Ocean in 1927, told an intimate friend to-day that he would attempt to break the world's non-stop distance record for aeroplanes on the first stage of his flight.

El Paso, Texas, Aug. 21.—Amelia Earhart, the first woman to fly the Atlantic, was the first of the fliers in the National Women's Air Derby to land at the El Paso municipal airport this morning from Douglas. Her plane crossed the line at the local field at 8:16:14 a.m.

She was closely followed by Miss Blanche Noyes of Cleveland, who landed at 8:18:46 a.m. Eleven others brought their ships to a stop at the field within a half hour after the arrival of the leader.

The others arrived in the following order: May Halslip of Tulsa, Okla., Ruth Nicholas, Rye, N.Y.; Louise McPhedridge Thaden of Pittsburgh; Gladys O'Donnell of Long Beach; Ruth Elder of Beverly Hills, Cal.; Vera Walker, Los Angeles; Mrs. Keith Miller of New Zealand; Neva Paris of Great Britain.

Vancouver-bound Train Overtakes East of Yale

Vancouver, Aug. 21.—Although the locomotive and three coaches of the Soo-Pacific Express were overturned eight miles east of Yale at 4:30 this morning while the crack train was Vancouver-bound with a big load of tourists and other travelers, no one was injured, according to an official statement of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

Shanghai, Aug. 21.—The Nationalist Government semi-official Tachung News Agency to-day issued a dispatch under a Harbin date line saying: "Although no major developments have taken place on the Manchurian frontier during the past two days, both China and Russia are quietly preparing for war."

MARTIAL LAW

The Chinese authorities declared martial law throughout the entire length of the Chinese Eastern Railway as the result of "the increasing gravity of the situation as well as because of a number of incidents along the railway such as the derailing of trains and the recurrence of sabotage by both Russian and Chinese communists."

The dispatch added that the Kirin Provincial Government had ordered two artillery brigades to proceed to the eastern border of Kirin province to oppose alleged raids by Russian troops. Telephone communications from Harbin to the east have been interrupted and communist agitators are believed guilty.

A military communique, considered to have an ominous aspect, was issued by the semi-official news agency Tachung to-day stating:

"Reliable circles indicate that the Manchurian situation may be expected soon to assume a different aspect inasmuch as the Soviet military demonstrations have failed to produce the desired effect."

"WITH STRONG MEASURES" The dispatch did not explain this reference explicitly but continued:

"On the other hand the National Government seems preparing to meet any Soviet military measure with official reports of troop movements northwards reinforcing the frontier forces."

Vancouver, Aug. 21.—George Dunham pleaded guilty to no fewer than six charges of breaking and entering premises, and did it without a quiver, whose apprehensions extended over a very few days, or nights, lost out when he gave way to an overwhelming desire to sleep.

He was found asleep in a burglar house and taken to custody, the result being that a number of places in the vicinity which had been robbed within a few nights; were found to be on his list.

His total gains in cash were less than $100, while food, cigarettes and household goods formed the balance of his loot. He will appear for sentence on August 23.

The derailed cars consisted of a colonist car that was being "dead-headed" through to the coast, a day coach and the baggage car.

The train does not run fast at the section of the road where the accident occurred.

SLIDING ROCKS Rocks sliding down the hillside were the direct cause of the derailment. R.M.S. Ararangi, bound for Sydney, Australia, is being held awaiting the arrival of the delayed trains. The vessel was due to sail on noon.

The yield now reported, viz. 317,594,000 bushels is 9.8 per cent greater than that of 1927-28 but 9.8 per cent less than the five-year average. The acreage of 32,011,000 is 1.0 per cent less than that of 1927-28 but 5.0 per cent more than the five-year average.

U.S. BATTLESHIP USED FOR FILMING COLUMBIA PICTURE

Many of the sea scenes in Columbia's special production, "Submarine," which is now showing at the Columbia Theatre, were taken aboard the U.S.S. Tern, which was laying in Los Angeles harbor at the time. The Tern is considered one of the best mine sweepers in service, and through the courtesy of the Navy Department, the Columbia company, under the direction of Frank Capra, was able to work aboard the ship.

Jack Holt is seen as a diver at work placing depth bombs and Ralph Graves delineates a petty officer.

NORMAN KERRY IS LEADING PLAYER AT THE PLAYHOUSE

A coincidence which recalled the fame of the late Rudolph Valentino transpired with the appearance of Norman Kerry under the direction of George Melford in the PBO production, "The Woman I Love," now showing at the Playhouse Theatre. Kerry is credited with having sponsored Valentino's start in motion pictures. Melford directed Valentino in "The Sign," which elevated the actor to stardom.

TALENTED SIAMESE TWINS HERE TO-DAY AT THE COLISEUM

To-night will see the opening engagement in North America of the Filipino-Siamese twins, Lucio and Simpicio Godino, who will appear for three days at the Coliseum Theatre.

The Godino brothers, who have been joined together since birth, are accompanied by their wives and a fourteen-piece Filipino band, and the whole party will appear before the footlights at the Coliseum. Several unique vaudeville turns are promised, with the twins as the centre of the attraction. Lucio and Simpicio are clever musicians. Both are experts on several string instruments and are the possessors of pleasing voices.

The Godinos came to North America especially to fill a Panthea tour. Manager George McKean of the Coliseum made a contract with the brothers, with the result that the twins will be given the first opportunity in North America to see the talented and much-talked-of twins.

SPLENDID CAST PLAYS IN FILM AT THE DOMINION

Herbert Brunston, who plays the part of Lord Elton in "The Last of Mrs. Cheney," a Norma Shearer starring vehicle which will show for the last time to-night at the Dominion Theatre as a new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer all-talking picture, didn't need any rehearsal for this role. The actor not only played the same part in the original London company but also repeated the performance in the first American presentation. Sidney Franklin directed the talking feature from the Frederick Lonsdale play. Basil Rathbone and George Barrard play the leading male roles with Hedda Hopper, Cyril Chadwick, Moon Carroll and George K. Arthur included in the elaborate supporting cast.

TO PIPE AT BANFF

has been selected to represent the Canadian Scottish Regiment at the Highland Gathering at Banff. Piper Wallace started playing the pipes at a very early age, and at the age of eleven years won the amateur championship of the Pacific Northwest. He won the Conservatory Cup three years in succession at the Caledonian Games, and at the gathering in Vancouver on August 10 last again won the amateur championship. He will be pitted against the finest professional pipers in Canada and also will meet a selected group from each Highland regiment in the Dominion.

It will be interesting to see just how well he measures up in such company. He has been a pupil in piping to his father, Piper Major Alexander Wallace, who as pipe major of the Canadian Scottish Regiment has developed two very fine bands, the senior and junior. His pupils all start at an early age and attain a uniformity in their performance that makes for a very harmonious effect when playing as a band.

YOUTHFUL STAR OF "SORRELL AND SON" NOW AT CAPITOL

"Father and Son," Columbia Pictures' super sound and talking production, at the Capitol Theatre for the last time to-day, starring Jack Holt and Dorothy Reiver, is proving to be one of the most human stories that has been shown in Victoria.

Mickey McRann, the youthful star of "Sorrell and Son," is more appealing than ever in this picture, and his voice is exceptionally fine. To followers of the "talkies" Jack Holt and Dorothy Reiver need no introduction. Their work being superb and finished to a degree. A splendid all-talking comedy and a fine musical act coupled with the Paramount Sound News rounds out this highly entertaining bill of sound and talking attractions.

Things Look Good Here, Says MacInnes

"It looks better than ever here. I have been much struck by the development that is taking place in Victoria."

W. R. MacInnes, vice-president in charge of C.P.R. traffic, glanced at the towering turrets of the new Empress Hotel wing as he spoke and as he sauntered down the driveway towards the Parliament Buildings, he observed that the stately pile improved with age.

"There's nothing much to say," said Mr. MacInnes when he was questioned about the railway system and volume of travel.

"It's been one of the best years we have had with travel at its peak right now."

"The crop is nothing to crow about but you can't always have things your own way. We had three good crops in succession," he said.

"Everybody is traveling, which is a good indication that prosperity prevails."

Mr. MacInnes is accompanied by George Stephen of Montreal, C. F.

DR. TORY SAYS MANY TRAINED FOR RESEARCH

National Council Provides Financial Means to Many Students

Wide Range of Studies Being Undertaken By Research Council

"The National Research Council of Canada has already trained nearly 200 young men in scientific research work, and this year will give bursaries to fifty new students," Dr. H. M. Tory, president of the Council, explained in an interview here yesterday given the glim at the Empress Hotel. Dr. Tory left for Ottawa after a three-day visit.

"Of the young men we have trained through our system of bursaries and scholarships, eighty per cent are now actively employed by industries or governments within Canada," Dr. Tory said with gratification. "It is our objective to train in Canada a supply of research scientists for work in Canada."

ANNUAL GRANTS

The scholarship system in effect commences with a bursary at a university in Canada for one year, awarded to suitable applicants. Satisfactory progress earns a scholarship for a second year, and the third year course is in turn dependent upon continued progress.

"All our grants to young men come up 'de novo' each year," Dr. Tory explained. In all, nearly 400 young men have been given Federal aid in research studies through the National Council of Research.

AID UNIVERSITIES

The second method adopted by the Council to advance this form of knowledge is by subsidization of researches being carried on at universities, when the objective is deemed of advantage to all Canada.

The third and most widespread activity is co-operative research on a large scale, such as the investigation now in progress as to the cause and control of rust in wheat. Methods of drying grain are also being studied under a special grain research committee.

The plant diseases committee is also a large organization, and Dr. Tory stated that about twenty such bodies were now being financed, chiefly by using the universities and providing funds to pay special assistants to professors and for special equipment.

NEW LABORATORIES

The Federal Government is now constructing at Ottawa a block of special laboratories for the use of the National Research Council. This equipment will cost $2,500,000 and will be in readiness in about three years. In the meantime temporary buildings are used, and this year additional accommodation of this character is being equipped.

KAHAKI COLLEGE HEAD

Dr. Tory became a member of the Research Council in 1919, upon his return from duty overseas as Colonial Director of Canada's Khaki University, the only fully equipped school of the type organized by the warring nations for soldiers.

The Federal Government last year requested Dr. Tory to devote his whole time to the advancement of the Research Council programme, and he thereupon resigned his post as president of the University of Alberta.

Dr. Tory is visiting British Columbia to examine the progress being made at Trail in efforts to ameliorate the nuisance caused by smelter fumes. The Council has five men at work on the problem of abatement and studying the damage caused, being specially interested in the international aspects of the matter.

Dr. Tory was very complimentary in his opinion of the staff and equipment at Trail Smelter, declaring the scientific personnel "very progressive," considered the mechanical installation "one of the finest instances of the way science can improve an industry."

"Our work at Trail is an example of the hundreds of instances expected to come within the scope of the National Research Council," he said.

estimated cost of $4,000,000, is to be constructed of stone, brick, steel and concrete, and is to be built 587 feet or thirty stories high.

CANADA HOLDS JAPAN MARKET DESPITE TARIFF

No Wood in Inland Empire That Competes With Douglas Fir

Policy of New Ministry Makes Increase Lumber Demand

Tokio, Aug. 8 (By Mail).—The recent increased import duty placed on lumber by the Japanese government has had little appreciable results in the Canadian lumber trade, according to C. R. Fraser, of Yokohama, representative of large British Columbia lumber interests.

The market for Canadian lumber in Japan this year has been the worst experienced by Mr. Fraser, subsequent to the great earthquake of 1923, but this is attributed to the general depression in every line of business and industry, and not to the tariff.

The reason for this, according to Mr. Fraser, is that Japan does not produce a wood that competes with the Douglas fir which Canada exports, and consequently, the tariff, in itself, has affected it to but a slight degree.

HEMLOCK SUFFERS
Canadian trade in hemlock, however, had suffered a temporary setback because the Japanese lumber interests, since the new duty went into force, have been able to substitute "Sugi" a variety of cedar, which meets the requirements of imported hemlock.

Doubt is expressed by Mr. Fraser that this competition will continue long, as he believes that Japanese will find that working costs will prove too costly, and that importation of Canadian hemlock will again dominate the market.

There is hope that the traffic in lumber may pick up again owing to the drastic retrenchment policy so strongly advocated by the new Hangechi Ministry. In this connection it is believed that lumber will form the cheapest material for construction of dwellings, schools and other buildings in the interior, rather than the more expensive materials. It remains to be seen, however, how successful the plans of the new government will be and how long it will remain in office.

DOLE ENDORSED BY CHURCHILL

Perfect Plan For Support of Unemployed Says Former British Chancellor

Winnipeg, Aug. 21.—Ideals of the British Empire, its progress and present-day problems were brilliantly related here last night, when Right Hon. Winston Churchill, former Chancellor of the Exchequer in the Baldwin Government, addressed thousands of Winnipeg citizens. Mr. Churchill was optimistic concerning the present-day status of the British Empire. The Mother Country, regardless of the impression of many people, was not down and out.

"Britain," he asserted, "is steadily growing in wealth, health, power and education. There never was a time of such prosperity. There was unemployment, but, summing the pessimistic reports of the situation, the former Chancellor said: 'There is nothing which should lead anyone to believe these reports are true. The miners are the symbol of the power of our race, man power and endurance.' The 'dole' he described in the words of Hon. J. H. Thomas as 'the most perfect scheme for the support of unemployed in any state or country.' Maintenance of peace he cited as the greatest interest of Great Britain to-day.

NO FOOD TAX, SAYS THOMAS

British Government Would Not Survive Attempt to Impose One, Says Minister

Urges Canada to Purchase More of Its Requirements From Britain

Montreal, Aug. 21.—Canadians, according to the Right Hon. J. H. Thomas, might derive considerable satisfaction from the knowledge that they would be making a substantial contribution to the alleviation of suffering and misery among Great Britain's unemployed by purchasing a larger proportion of their requirements from that country.

"We buy over fifty per cent of our wheat," he declared in an interview here last night, "and it is not given to us either. On the other hand, you are buying three times as much from the United States in raw and manufactured products as you are purchasing from us. If our people's spending power could be increased it would mean much toward the solution of our present problem."

NOT GIVING ADVICE
Great Britain's Lord Privy Seal and Minister of Unemployment arrived here early yesterday morning from Ottawa. Mr. Thomas made it perfectly clear that he did not wish to give advice to Canadians, or to tell them what they should do. "Nothing could do more harm than for a statesman to travel the Empire and to interfere or dictate to the government of the day," he said.

REFUSED FOOD TAX
The Britisher would never support any tax on food, Mr. Thomas stated, "and none of us would survive any attempt to make such an imposition." He added, "The Labor Government came into being because they refused to place a tax on food, and the Labor Government is striving for a free breakfast table, because on this depends the common necessities of the people."

"There are large numbers of our people who are still imbued with the Empire spirit; the old pioneer spirit of Imperialism that made the Empire great," Mr. Thomas said. They only want the opportunity to show it, and it is the duty of the overseas governments to give them an opportunity to show it."

No new systems will be inaugurated, Mr. Thomas said in reply to a question as to existing plans for bringing people out to this country.

Mr. Thomas, whose brief stay in Canada has been anything but a holiday, will be engaged all this week in conferences with leading men in Montreal.

TEAM WORK ON COLD STORAGE

Federal Minister Satisfied With Work of New Westminster Plant

Vancouver, B.C., Aug. 21.—Thoroughly satisfied with the work of the Dominion Government subsidized cold storage plant at New Westminster in storing B.C. berries, Hon. W. R. Motherwell, M.P., Dominion Minister of Agriculture pointed to the plant as an excellent example of team work between the Dominion and Provincial Governments, when he passed through Vancouver Tuesday on his way east.

Mr. Motherwell pointed out that the Dominion Government had supplied the cold storage plant, while the Provincial Government had provided for the processing of berries. "It is a splendid example of team work between the two Governments," he said.

Breaks Leg At Farewell Party

Redding, Cal., Aug. 21.—John Mackey, forty, was to have left for Canada to-day to take a mine superintendency, but after the farewell party at his house last night doctors told him his departure would be postponed six weeks or so.

Some of the party proposed a friendly wrestling match between Mackey and his friend of many years, Oliver Clark, fifty-two. When the match ended Mackey's leg was broken in two places.

Both men are well known in Northern California mining circles.

There are more negroes in Georgia than in any other state. The colored population of that state, according to the last census, is 1,208,365.

Police Handcuff Girl Speedster

San Francisco, Aug. 21.—The Examiner to-day said Miss Laura McGinn, twenty-one, Stanford student and daughter of a prominent San Francisco business man, was handcuffed by Constable Fred Delucchi at Novato, Cal., last Saturday night because she violently objected to being arrested for reckless driving.

The newspaper said Miss McGinn was released from the handcuffs only after her mother, Mrs. Elsie McGinn, who was accompanying her, agreed to take the girl to a hotel over night. She was released on her own recognizance the next day but was ordered to appear before Justice of the Peace Herman Rudolf, August 27.

COMMUNISTS HURT UNIONS

One of Subjects to Be Discussed at Conference in Belfast

Belfast, Aug. 21 (By Thomas T. Chompton, Canadian Press Staff Correspondent).—One of the most interesting matters coming before the trades union congress here next month will be the report of the communist menace within the trades union movement. The report, made by a committee, is long and detailed and the general conclusion is:

"With the exception of one or two cases the disruptive element instigated by the communist and national minority movement is having a less and diminishing influence." "There appears no doubt whatever," the report goes on, that the communist and minority movements actively does mitigate against not only retention of members, but especially against enrolling of new members within the unions. The communist minority movement appears to have done most serious harm in those unions which had not thought it advisable in the early stages to check communist activity in their branches and districts."

British Premier Meets Hoover In October

Washington, Aug. 21.—Premier Ramsay MacDonald will probably visit Washington early in October. This opinion was expressed in usually well-informed circles yesterday after Monday's conference at Lussimouth, Scotland, between the Premier and Ambassador Charles G. Dawes. It is suggested the meeting between President Hoover and the Premier may be rather more of a social and less of a business nature than was anticipated.

THREE MEN HELD ON CONSPIRACY CHARGE

Vancouver, Aug. 21.—James B. Edwards, alias Kilgus, alleged to be the third man in an attempt to obtain $75,000 from Julius Frank on August 17, was taken into custody yesterday. The man was said to be driving an automobile, the number of which was given to the police, and through this information police were able to trace Edwards.

He was remanded with his two alleged companions until August 28, on a charge of conspiracy to defraud, but being fixed at $5,000.

BENNETT CALLS FOR DUMP ACT

Opposition Chieftain Talks to Fruit Growers of Okanagan

Penticton, B.C., Aug. 21.—Hon. R. B. Bennett, Conservative Leader, criticized here last night a further public utterance by Hon. Herbert Marler, new Canadian Minister to Tokyo, respecting conditions in this district of the Okanagan Valley. The Opposition Chieftain coupled his criticism with a demand that the Dominion Government invoke the dumping provisions to protect not only the fruit growers of the Okanagan, but the fruit and vegetable growers in other parts of Canada.

"Here is a glorified trade commissioner, in the guise of a minister, coming here to tell you that you are prosperous," Mr. Bennett exclaimed, after reading the newspaper report of the statement by Mr. Marler. "And no one is thinking of trade commissioners who should have at home in place of spending this money in other countries to buy goods," he went on. "Where are the trade commissioners at home to develop Canada by the use of this $500,000,000 among Canadians. Think of the absurdity of what is being done. Here is a glorified trade commissioner who has been talking about trade abroad and right within our doors is a $500,000,000 market and no trade commissioners are bothering about it."

WE SHOULD BUY MORE

RIGHT HONORABLE J. H. THOMAS, Minister of Unemployment in the British Government, who is now in Canada, says this Dominion can contribute largely to the solution of the unemployment problem of Great Britain by buying more British goods. He points out that Canada buys from the United States three times as much as she buys from the United Kingdom.

Mr. Thomas emphasizes a condition to which this newspaper has referred many times. We have pointed out that one means by which Canada could increase her imports from Great Britain could be by the extension of the customs preference to British goods. This preference was first given by the Laurier Government in 1897, and since then has been extended several times. A further concession along this line, particularly in goods which are manufactured in Britain but of which we import large quantities from the United States, could help our trade with Great Britain, furnish work for many thousands of the British unemployed, and benefit the Canadian consumers.

In the year ending last June we bought from the United Kingdom goods valued at $196,000,000. We sold to that market products valued at $410,000,000, more than twice as much as we bought. Hence, the margin of trade is very heavily in Canada's favor, and Mr. Thomas thinks this situation is too one-sided as far as his country is concerned.

Canadian protectionists, however, are hostile to the policy of giving tariff preference to British goods. They opposed the first British preference very bitterly, and their opposition has continued up to the present. Mr. Bennett has made this plain in his speeches throughout the country. He says he is not interested in the economic needs of people 3,000 miles away, and when the King Government lowers the tariff against British goods again Mr. Bennett will attack that policy just as vigorously as he is attacking the Australian Treaty.

Mr. Thomas should realize, however, that while tariff preference by Canada to British goods would help to solve Britain's unemployment problem, other factors must be taken into consideration. British manufacturers must supply the goods Canada wants, not the goods they think Canada ought to have. They must study and cater to the Canadian market just as United States manufacturers study and cater to that market. They will have a big advantage over their competitors in customs duties, but no matter how great that advantage may be it cannot give them the Canadian market unless they are prepared to give that market what it needs.

Great Britain herself, of course, buys much more from foreign countries than she does from the rest of the Empire. In 1928 her total imports amounted to $5,985,000,000. Of that huge total $4,163,000,000 represented imports from foreign countries, while goods valued at $1,820,000,000 were purchased from British countries. Hence two-thirds of Britain's purchases are from foreign countries. Likewise, she sells to foreign countries more than twice as much as she sells to the rest of the Empire. Obviously there is room for improvement under both heads, but the responsibility does not lie wholly with the Dominions.

THE PACE THAT KILLS

A MOST SIGNIFICANT WARNING concerning health recently came from Dr. Morris Fishbein, editor of The Journal of the American Medical Association, and thus one of the foremost authorities on health in this country.

He pointed out that while medical science had made many important discoveries which have tended to make the nation healthier, statistics show that people are not living longer. In recent years, some of the foremost medical authorities have predicted that advancements in medicine will make it possible to increase greatly the average longevity. But so far, there is little evidence of these predictions coming true. It is true that real strides have been made in combating infant mortality. Because of improved health standards and wider dissemination of knowledge concerning the care of children, their chances of living through infancy have been greatly increased. Also more lives of middle-aged persons are saved, due to remarkable operations and more skilled physicians.

But the story is different when old age comes, Dr. Fishbein points out. The human body is a wonderful mechanism, but it wears out, and unlike our modern machines, parts of it cannot be renewed.

This generation lives at a fast pace, and it is this fact that prevents the longevity tables from showing an increase comparable with the advancements in medical science. Too few slow down before the physician can really help them.

Possibly this is due to the fact that we are placing too much reliance on medical science. We have heard of its wonderful progress and instead of watching our health carefully throughout life, possibly some of us are too inclined to let things take their course in the belief that any ill can be cured in this wonderful age.

Too few have regular physical examinations and too few heed the warning signals of nature. We try to keep up the pace of youth. We do not guard our health at the very time when our strength must be conserved. We worry too much. We do not give medical science a chance to accomplish its wonders, and we forget that while it can do much it cannot work miracles.

In some of the more isolated sections of the country where the fast pace of civilization has not yet spread, people are living to remarkable ages.

Although mortality rates among Indian children are high, many Indians are living beyond the age of eighty years. These facts seem to add weight to Dr. Fishbein's conclusion that we are living too fast or worrying too much or working too hard and are not watching our health as we should.

MOTOR CARS AND HEALTH

DID YOU EVER THINK OF THE BIG part played by the automobile in getting the urban population to fresh air?

Twenty-five years ago there were millions of people cooped up day after day in the stifling heat and smoke-filled air of our large cities. Fresh air specials loaded with poor children were run into the country districts.

But now nearly every family is able to get the pure fresh air of the country at least once a week. The automobile takes them there. Look at the greatly increased number of golf courses, most of which are crowded. The same applies to beaches, camps and other places where outdoor sports are available.

One of the greatest contributions of the motor car to modern civilization probably will be improved health resulting from more fresh air per capita.

DEATH FROM THE AIR

THE FRENCH GOVERNMENT HAS granted the Lifthansa Company, Germany's leading aviation organization, permission to fly its planes over Fort Cherbourg, near the principal seaport of France, in order to speed up delivery of mail between Germany and the United States. The mail bags will be dropped on the deck of the Bremen, Germany's new trans-Atlantic liner.

France's action is commendable, because it indicates less of the distrust and suspicion that have marked relations between her and Germany for many years.

But at the same time would there be much necessity for any nation to guard the secrets of its forts if another big war should come? Would not those forts which helped stem the German advance into France in 1914 be as obsolete as the cannon of bygone days?

If such a war should come, death would rain from the skies and what good would a few forts be? The long-range cannon that bombarded Paris during the World War amazed the entire world, but since then aviation with non-stop flights for planes of more than 4,000 miles and for dirigibles of more than 6,000 miles has made the "Big Bertha" appear as a puny weapon of war.

Another war could not be confined to combatant armies. It is certain that the death toll of civilians—children, women and helpless old men—would be terrible. A few thousand airmen could do more damage than an army of millions in the field.

For these reasons, the statesmen and peoples of the world should do everything possible to prevent such a conflict. Anything looking towards the end must be encouraged fervently. The people of the world do not want war and their representatives in international councils must truly represent them.

"What if we do have these gangsters shooting each other off because of bootlegging? That is just what we want."—Pussyfoot Johnson, prohibition lecturer.

It is a menace to our national well-being, but I am not sure it can be solved altogether through legislation."—William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

LADY POPE'S LETTER
The Ottawa Citizen

On this page to-day appears a letter from Lady Pope concerning the right of the private citizen to fly the Union Jack. The letter is a timely response to the statement made by Mr. Andrew MacLean, B.N.V.R., Toronto, in his new booklet, "British Flags on Land and Sea," and quoted in these columns, to the effect that "the Union Jack is strictly the King's colors and should not be displayed by private citizens ashore or afloat." Mr. MacLean says it can be correctly flown only over government property, and adds that the right flag for Canadians to use is the Red Ensign.

Unless there are on record subsequent official communications to those reproduced by Lady Pope on this subject, it would appear that Mr. MacLean is wrong. As the documents quoted in Lady Pope's letter show, the Union Jack may legitimately be flown by all British subjects. This is on the authority of Lewis Harcourt, Colonial Secretary in the Asquith cabinet, and Lord Knollys, private secretary to Edward VII and George V. Both state unequivocally that the Union Jack may be flown by private British subjects. Mr. Harcourt gives the additional information that the Red Ensign with the arms of Canada in the fly is "intended to be used only by Canadian merchant vessels."

The Union Jack, therefore, as Lady Pope points out, remains our national flag until we decide on a distinctive flag of our own. That distinctive flag is almost bound to come. The first opposition to it, much of it mistaken, is diminishing. But Canada is a unit on one important detail. Any new design must incorporate in a conspicuous manner the Union Jack.

A THOUGHT

Then I looked on all the works that my hands had wrought, and on the labor that I had labored to do; and, behold, all was vanity and vexation of spirit, and there was no profit under the sun.—Ecc. 1:11.

A cock, having found a pearl, said that a grain of corn would be of more value to him.—Pierre Leroux.

Loose Ends

The worm turns at last—against the tyranny of razor and lather.—Mrs. Rachel Emily Willard, defends her country rats from a barbarous civilization—and Kansas steers are found not to be air-minded.

By H. B. W.

A H. HERE is good news for all of us! A lonely, gallant soul, unknown among the teeming millions of a big eastern city, has had the courage to sue a barber after having his facial epidermis removed by a razor. This is not a large amount, but it is the principle of the thing that matters. For countless generations mankind has taken exactly what the barber was willing to give it and has said nothing; for what chance have you got to say anything when your mouth is full of lather and your face is wrapped in a Turkish towel? And when your relation to the world is horizontal and a well-sharpened razor is poised above your windpipe, well, your powers of protest seem to ooze out, and it is so much easier just to talk to the bootblack about the races.

NOW COMES a ray of hope, thanks to that nameless hero of the sidewalks of New York. "In due time," shouts the New York Times, "it may be possible to enter a barber shop for a haircut and emerge before the appendix has been removed." And yet it is observed that there may be much worse to come if the barbers get wise to themselves. If they should suddenly realize that they were the first surgeons and decide to recover their former authority, many a man who walks into a barber shop and two legs would come out on his back. In which case the barbers would have to sue the estate for the shampoo, massage and manure which the patient had not ordered.

MRS. RACHEL EMILY WILLARD is eighty years old and lives in Platt's Lane, London. The neighbors complained about the way Mrs. Willard was going on in her old age and a sanitary inspector called. He found her cottage infested with rats, while in her garden she was feeding more rats with evident tenderness. The sanitary inspector returned with a rat catcher, but was refused admittance to the cottage in Platt's Lane. Instead, Mrs. Willard pushed under the door a letter to the Medical Officer of Health in which she made this sound observation: "I refused admittance to officer because I consider as a free citizen I have fulfilled my duty to the little country rats who came into my garden—dear little voles—and also because I object to being considered the scapegoat of Platt's Lane."

TO THE city authorities the sanitary inspector testified that the rats of Platt's Lane were just ordinary, objectionable rats. Mrs. Willard was hailed into court, where she bewildered everyone with a torrent of scientific explanation to show that she had befriended not ordinary city rats, but highly respectable voles from the country. She told the court while a vole belonged to the order rodentia, it was obviously not the same family as the mice in the muridae. Thereupon this dauntless old lady commenced to cross-examine the sanitary inspector on these points and before that good man collapsed under her questions about the microtinae and the muridae the judge wisely adjourned the case.

THE SYMPATHY of all right-thinking people will be with Mrs. Rachel Emily Willard, of Platt's Lane. Why she should not entertain city rats or country voles one fails to see. Had she maintained a dozen carnivorous dogs, or a score of bird-hunting cats with appetites far more promiscuous than those of the worst rat, no one would have objected. She made the mistake of violating not a law of nature or of respectability. Her error was much more glaring. She violated one of our strongest prejudices. Consequently we propose to make her the scape goat of Platt's Lane. To serve our prejudices we have been making Scape Goats of Platt's Lane from the time of Scrooges onward. You could not expect our civilization to note the evident distinction between the common rat, the vole, the microtinae and the muridae.

IN KANSAS recently stockmen complained to the authorities that their cattle were being terrified and suffering loss of valuable weight because aeroplanes frequently swooped down close to their ranges. The stockmen demanded that aviators be forced to keep a respectable distance from the ground because Kansas steers, though tough, are not air-minded yet.

AT THIS there were smiles from the Atlantic to the Pacific and not much sympathy for the old-fashioned steers of Kansas, which shows how little men look ahead. It will not be long before we share the fate of those unfortunate animals. Note next time the Seattle mail plane comes zooming over Victoria and lands in a graceful curve in the harbor, that you can hear its roar in every part of the city. Multiply that by several hundred and you have the idea of the din that will fill the heavens in another decade or two. The generation of that day probably will have developed ears that will endure this clamor day and night, or more likely, the human race will mercifully lose its sense of hearing altogether. The few tottering survivors of our day will have to go and live in boiler shops for the sake of the comparative quiet there.

Two Permits Granted For Storage Use

New Store and Storage Building For V.I. Coach Lines to Cost $22,000.

Sidney Roofing & Paper Company Limited to Erect New Warehouse

Permits covering the erection of a new warehouse for the Sidney Roofing and Paper Company Limited on the Industrial Reserve, and the new store and storage block for the Vancouver Island Coach Lines Limited, were issued at the City Hall this week.

Luney Bros. will build the transportation company's block, to cost $22,000. The building will have a store and office space on the ground floor on Humboldt Street, opposite the Empress Hotel, with car storage space on the second floor. The building will be in brick and concrete, erected to a handsome modern design.

Special permission was granted by the city in connection with the permit for garage storage use in a retail section. The car storage floor will have blind windows on Humboldt Street, only the store premises giving access to that street, which is zoned for retail use.

The new warehouse for the Sidney Roofing and Paper Company Limited will be carried out by the Victoria Realty and Building Company, to plans prepared by Spurgin and Semeyn. The warehouse will be built of eight-inch hollow tile, with 5,000 square feet of space, and will cost in the neighborhood of $7,900. The new structure is in addition to other accommodation for storage purposes recently provided at the Industrial Reserve plant of the company.

Specialists Win Poultry Show Awards

Make Clean Sweep of All Events in Different Varieties at Exhibition

Sweeping all competition before them, specialists in different breeds of poultry gained almost uninterrupted success in the show judged at the Willows yesterday. In the Houdans, Silver Spangled Hamburgs, Polish, Buff Leghorn and Salmon Favorelles sections, J. P. Sarsiat made a clean sweep, taking all awards in each class.

J. P. Sarsiat enjoyed similar supremacy in the Anconas and Black Leghorn divisions, while Owen Smith's Plymouth Rocks, Partridge variety, secured all the prizes.

With the exception of a third place in cockerel and young pen competitions, J. D. Blackstock repeated the performance of the other exhibitors. Mrs. Mowat was the only one to challenge him in this class.

A. T. Smith and H. D. Reid shared honors in light Sussex classes, while Jas. Greig and Mrs. R. Sparrowhawk divided laurels in Black Minorca divisions.

White Plymouth Rocks were shown with virtually equal success by Wace and Reason and George Scholefield. The former exhibitors took the majority of first prizes.

Fine Stock On View At Cattle Show This Year

Champion Animals Attract Attention as Judging Opens at Fair; La France's Princess Outstanding Entry; David Spencer Limited Herd of Jerseys Includes High Ranking Cows and Bulls.

Judging of some of the blue bloods of the cattle kingdom commenced at the Provincial Exhibition yesterday and provided pleasure for many fanciers who watched the adjudicators size up the merits of some of the best stock on the continent.

Included in the show this year are some of the finest animals ever brought to Victoria. Among them is La France's Princess, a cow from Dr. Olson's Jersey herd at Duncan.

ESTABLISHED RECORD

This animal is being exhibited for the first time in the local stall, but has previously established the world's record for two-year-olds of the 305-day class, having yielded 14,481 pounds of milk and 729 pounds of butter fat during the test.

Competing against this record holder are some of the best animals in the upper country, prairies and California. Jerseys are being shown by E. Dumville of Chilliwack, J. M. Landry of Summerland, the Dominion Experimental Farm, Summerland; David Spencer Limited, G. Girling, Victoria, and Dr. Olson, Duncan.

During the judging of shorthorns, Herefords, Holstein-Friesians and Aberdeen Angus varieties, many fine animals were inspected.

SPENCER'S HERD

Among the Spencer herd are many notable animals that have won consistently at many shows. Bovina's Noble Sultan, winner of first prize for three-year-olds and reserve grand champion of the Victoria show, and winner of the grand championship at Vancouver, heads the herd. Curzola's Rosie, the highest prize winner in the herd, is also on display. This super cow, which was imported from Jersey, yields five gallons of milk per day at present. At the Vancouver fair she won first prize in her class and established a record during the show.

VOLUNTEER'S ROYAL QUEEN

Volunteer's Royal Queen, winner of the first prize for junior yearlings and reserve grand champion, also occupies a conspicuous place in the herd. Besides winning the junior championship at the Vancouver Jersey show, she has won the grand title at Saskatoon and junior championship at Edmonton, this year.

Santa's Oxford Coronation, prize senior heifer calf and reserve grand champion; Sultan's Oxford, another championship entry, as well as Oxford's Flo-Flo, prize junior heifer calf, Oxford Sultan Chimes, high ranking junior bull calf, and many other outstanding animals were on view in this herd.

Oxford Sultan Chimes was sired by the $3,000 bull, Oxford Sultan, which was recently imported from the Jersey Island.

DADDY CANNOT EAT ANYTHING

He dearly loved a rich tit-bit. The spirit was willing, but the flesh was weak. Whenever he ate anything rich, his boys used to say, "Poor dad, he will pay the penalty to-morrow." Read the sequel in his own words:

"Since taking the regular dose of Kruschen Salts it is quite different, and my boys enjoy themselves seeing me eat what I dare not touch before. My oldest son was the same, but since he has taken Kruschen Salts he can eat and enjoy whatever is put in front of him."

Modern artificial conditions, errors of diet, overwork, lack of exercise, and so on, are bound to have injurious effects in the long run providing due precaution is not taken.

Kruschen Salts should be your safeguard. Besides cleansing the body of impurities gently, surely and painlessly, they possess a vital power of giving new life and vitality to the countless millions of cells of which everybody is composed. That is why physicians never hesitate to recommend Kruschen Salts. (Adv.)

Acclaim Sheep Show Best Ever Staged In City

Judge Pays High Tribute to Exhibit at Fair; Wm. Darnbrough Wins Many Prizes

"This year's sheep exhibit is by far the best ever shown in Victoria," stated John A. Turner, judge of this section in the provincial exhibition, when looking over the animals yesterday.

Both in size and quality the show is greater than any previous one held here. It includes over 500 animals. Featuring South Downs, Wm. Darnbrough carried off nine first places in this division and annexed a number of second and third prizes. E. A. Gamble also secured a number of first honors as well as several seconds and thirds.

Wm. Darnbrough's entry in the ram section was judged champion, while A. C. Stewart's animal was awarded honors for the best ram bred in British Columbia.

SUPREME IN EWES

Darnbrough proved supreme in the open ewe classes, while J. A. Higginson won the best British Columbia bred ewe prize.

J. G. S. Hubbard and Son's animals were outstanding entries in the Hampshire, taking nine first places and many other awards.

George Sangster also achieved high standing in this division. Wm. Darnbrough's animals in the Shropshire class gained many first places, while A. C. Stewart, G. H. and J. J. Thompson, Floyd T. Fox, and T. K. Harrap gathered other laurels in this section. Results of the judging done late yesterday follow:

WEDDING SCENE AT ST. AIDAN'S LAST EVENING

Miss Lily Emmeline Merrett and Mr. Leslie George Carter Married

St. Aidan's Church, Mount Toimie, was the scene last evening of a pretty wedding at 8.30 when Rev. F. T. Galbraith united in marriage Lily Emmeline, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Merrett, of Cedar Hill Cross Road, Mount Toimie, and Mr. Leslie George Carter, second son of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Carter, of "Woodley," Woodley Road. Given in marriage by her father, the bride made a lovely picture in her wedding gown of white satin, fashioned with sleeves, long-waisted bodice and skirt in period style, with flounce of rose point lace, dotted with embroidered true-lovers' knots of rhinestones. The conventional wedding veil was arranged on her head in cap-shape and held in place with a wreath of orange blossoms. Orange blossoms worn by her mother on her wedding day were also used by the bride to adorn her gown. She carried a shower bouquet of Ophelia roses, carnations and sweet peas.

The bride was attended by Miss Clem Cruickshank, of Vancouver, as maid of honor, by Miss Muriel Carter, sister of the groom, as bridesmaid, and by little Miss Daphne Whiteoak, as flower girl. Miss Cruickshank wore a frock of orchid georgette, made in the prevailing style of long waist and skirt with uneven hemline, and wore a picture hat of silk mohair to match. Miss Carter wore a frock of daffodil-yellow georgette, made with plain bodice and tiered skirt, the flounces of which were trimmed with bands of satin ribbon. Her hat of mohair matched her dress. Miss Daphne Whiteoak wore a dainty frock of pale blue organdy and bandeau of silver leaves on her head. The maid of honor's bouquet was a sheaf of yellow gladioli, that of the bridesmaid's composed of mauve gladioli, and the basket carried by the flower girl was filled with pink sweet peas.

The groom was supported by his brother, Mr. William Carter, and ushers were Messrs. John Merrett, brother of the bride, and Cyril Carter, brother of the groom.

The wedding march was played by Mrs. F. Dowling, on the arrival and departure of the bride party, and during the signing of the register. Mrs. Arthur Dowling rendered the vocal selection, "Promise Me."

For the happy occasion the church had been artistically decorated with a profusion of summer flowers by friends of the bride under the supervision of Mrs. H. Lindsay, assisted by Mrs. W. B. Mortimer and Mrs. J. Taylor. During the ceremony the bride party stood under an arch of ferns, gypsophila, gladioli and dahlias surmounted by a basket of trailing greenery. The bridesmaids were signified with clusters of blooms tied with white tulle.

Following the marriage service a reception was held at Mr. and Mrs. H. Lindsay's home, which had been decorated by Mrs. M. B. McIndhal with flowers forming a color scheme of pink, mauve and yellow.

The bride and groom were assisted in receiving their guests, numbering over two hundred, by Mrs. Merrett, who wore a dress of silver-gray georgette and smart hat in pink coloring, and by Mrs. Carter, who was gowned in fawn flat crepe with hat en suite.

Later Mr. and Mrs. Carter left for Portland, Ore., and on their return to Victoria will make their home at 2714 Blackwood Street. For traveling the bride wore a beige ensemble with hat to match.

Among the many gifts was a standard lamp from the staff of the Swift Canadian Company, where the groom is employed.

Among the out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mrs. MacDougal, of Vancouver; Miss V. Kummer, of Vancouver; and Mr. Innes, of Vancouver.

Never an Iron on My Hair

By Edna Wallace Hopper

Wherever my theatrical engagements take me I could have a marcel, but I never do. I prefer my own method—waving my hair with my Wave and Sheen. I always keep my hair clean by shampooing once a week. I apply Wave and Sheen with a comb. You can use a brush, or just your hands. I dampen the hair with it—insert combs in the direction I wish the waves, tie a veil over my hair and keep it on for about an hour. Some types of hair require more time, some less. The result is a soft, lovely, undulating wave. Most people in my audience think I have it marcelled. Many ask whether it is a natural wave. It is not. You can have this same sheen no matter what method you use to wave your hair. Get a bottle at any toilet counter. One trial will convince you as it has thousands of others. (Adv.)

STORY OF NURSES' CONVENTION TOLD BY MISS HODGE

Delegate From B.C. to International Council of Nurses Delights Audience

Reception of New Countries at Forum, Montreal, Most Spectacular

"It would need the pen of the ready writer, the brush of the trained artist, or better still, the soul of the true poet, to give a worthwhile picture of the International Congress of Nurses held recently in Montreal," said Miss Meta Hodge, R.N., M.C., last evening, when she gave a most interesting account of her impressions of this convention before a representative gathering of the nursing profession in Victoria at a meeting of the Overseas Sisters' Club held in the private dining-room at the Empress Hotel.

At the convention, Miss Hodge represented the Graduate Nurses of B.C., the Overseas Sisters' Club and the Private Duty Section.

One of the most pleasant memories of the congress, said Miss Hodge, was the exchange of greetings between old friends and acquaintances at this annual meeting, at which thirty-nine different countries were represented by delegates, who numbered over 6,000.

On the Sunday preceding the week's session, about 3,000 delegates attended the special services at Christ Church Cathedral, while over 5,000 were at mass in Notre Dame Cathedral.

At a session of the Ex-service Sisters' Clubs of Canada, it was decided to form an All-Canada Ex-service Sisters' Club, the aims and objects of this club to be first: Loyalty to King, country and service comrades; second, preservation of friendship and comradeship formed during the trying days of war; third, the furtherance of the Montreuil service Sisters' Club in need of ill, and, fourth, to help promote good will and friendship among the women of the world, and thus help toward world peace.

The officers of the Montreal Ex-service Sisters' Club were elected national officers for the ensuing year. The annual meeting of this new club will be held at the same time and place as the meeting of the Graduate Nurses' Association of Canada.

The opening session of the congress was a brilliant scene, said the speaker, and it was remarkable that the thirtieth session of the International Council of Nurses, founded by Mrs. Gordon Fenwick of England, should take place in the historic city of Montreal, the cradle of nursing in the western world, where Sister Jeanne Mance founded the first hospital in Canada, the Hotel Dieu.

One of the outstanding sessions of the congress, stated Miss Hodge, was the general meeting at the Forum when five countries were received into membership—Brazil, Greece, Yugoslavia, the Philippines and Sweden. With pomp and pageantry, before nearly 7,000 nurses in costumes ranging from the demure simplicity of religious orders to the brilliance of Oriental national dress, with the added effect of the flags of almost every country on the globe, draping boxes, platform and beams of the building, the Forum presented a most colorful scene for this international ceremony, while the Royal Highlanders' band completed the picture and added to the gaiety of the scene, by playing the National Anthem of each country as the delegates were introduced to the assembly, escorted to the platform by Girl Guides carrying the flag of the new members' country.

To see the delegates from China welcome those from Brazil, New Zealand, Greece, South Africa, the United States, the Philippines, and Norway welcome Sweden, gave one the feeling that the International Congress of Nurses had a great opportunity to work for peace and goodwill among the nations of the world. In fact one delegate asked if this colorful scene were an assembly of the League of Nations, said Miss Hodge.

Each country's representative made her reception speech in English, and answered questions in the same language, which made one realize the great progress made in education during the last few years, as well as to marvel at the culture of the delegates.

A most interesting episode at the convention was related by Miss Hodge when she told of the scene created by a delegate from Scotland, aged eighty-six, who had been matron of an infirmary in her native country for over forty years. She had merely commenced to extend greetings to the delegates from the new countries received into membership, when the members of the Royal Highlanders band, detecting her nationality by her speech, at once played "For Auld Lang Syne," followed by "Bonnie Annie Laurie," which caused the enthusiasm of the audience to overflow. Following this emotional outburst, the old lady, who resembled the picture of Whistler's Mother, gave her speech of welcome in a firm voice, without the use of an amplifier.

The heavy sessions were interspersed with social events, said Miss Hodge, one of the most enjoyable being a garden party by the Montreal Overseas Sisters' Club on the beautiful lawn of the O.C.B. Hospital at St. Anne's de Bellevue, which afforded a drive of twenty miles along the St. Lawrence River.

Miss Hodge said one was constantly hearing cries of joy and the words, "Where did I see you last? Was it at Le Treport, at Calais, Etaples, Nancy, Boulogne, London, Burton, Eastbourne or Folkestone?"

Miss Hodge not only represented the nursing profession for British Columbia, but acted as a publicity agent for Victoria, for, acting on the suggestion of Miss Saunders, president of the Overseas Sisters' Club in Victoria, she took with her literature describing the city, and as a result a number of delegates to the International Congress of Nurses have already visited Victoria, and many more are wending their way across the continent.

Miss Hodge stated that all dele-

The annual meeting of the Victoria District W.C.T.U. was held yesterday afternoon in the Y.W.C.A. room, the president, Mrs. John Hall, presiding.

On account of the very full agenda the election of officers and the annual reports were left over for the next meeting, which will be held at the call of the chair.

FORCED FEEDING NEVER SUCCESSFUL WITH CHILDREN
To make psychology sound less difficult one can call it common sense, for that is exactly what it is. The mother who intuitively understands in what manner she should act to get a favorable response from her child is equipped with a knowledge of psychology, even if she has never opened a book on the subject.

There are mothers who seem singularly lacking in any understanding of human nature, or else they believe children to be different from themselves. One shrieking example of faulty treatment, and an absolute blindness toward cause and effect, is the practice of some mothers of spanking their children to make them eat. I have two letters in front of me from mothers who admit having used every known method of making a child eat, including spanking them "black and blue." One says, "What is the answer to this problem?" And the answer should be, "Use common sense."

Why does a child eat? Is it because his mother tells him he must? Is it because his mother benefits by his eating? Is it because it pleases the family? No, to all these questions, a child eats because eating is a pleasurable method of ending hunger, an unpleasant sensation. Having remembered that past indulgences in food have been satisfying and comforting, he repeats the experience. Just as soon as the mother makes meal time disagreeable by scolding or nagging, or forcing the food on the child, or punishing him for refusing to eat, she makes eating unpleasant and food hateful to him. Discovering by accident that by forcing himself to vomit he can end his mother's persecution, he uses this method daily. The habit of ejecting food is easy to learn and hard to break. Very shortly the child actually cannot keep down a meal. His stomach is in a state of revolt.

When things reach this stage the one way to end the situation is to change the child's surroundings. Let some one else eat with him, or let him go somewhere else. Usually these children will be found to eat quite happily when away from home and their mothers. This would be quite natural, for meal times in other homes are pleasant. I doubt whether these children would ever be able to enjoy a meal in their homes. Even if they are able to forget their early experiences, they will find that when they go to "Mother's" the food disagrees with them. That is the price they will have to pay for their repressed remembrances of past punishments.

No one needs a course in psychology to know that unless meal time is a happy period, unless eating is an enjoyable ceremony, the child will certainly refuse to eat.

Do you have a copy of Mrs. Eldred's leaflet on "Feeding and Weaning from Six Weeks to Six Years" which thousands of mothers have found so practical? To get it, send a self-addressed, stamped card with your request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of the Your Baby and Mine department of this newspaper.

FINE EXHIBITS ARE JUDGED IN WOMEN'S WORK

Displays By Ladies Over Seventy Years Old Creates Interest; Results Issued

Displays of domestic science, home economics, arts and crafts, laundry work, needle work and exhibits by aged women drew crowds to the Women's Building yesterday, where judging, which opened on Monday, was continued.

In all departments of this exhibition competition was exceptionally keen and many entries of high standard were placed upon the various exhibits.

Of particular interest was the display for aged women over seventy years old. Needlework, knitting, crocheting, embroidery and patch-work quilts were featured.

Garments, towels, shopping bags, rugs, pillows, buffet sets and many other articles of interest to women were on display.

Amateur arts and craft display proved of high quality. In this section were shown paper flowers, tiny painted handkerchiefs, beadwork and lamp shades.

FUR EXHIBITS
Fur exhibits and articles made from pelts were displayed in another part of the building. Mrs. M. Boucher carried off many prizes in this class. The skins were principally taken from rabbits native to British Columbia.

Appetizing pastries, pies, cakes and bottled fruit were shown in the domestic science department.

Further results of competitions in the women's department follow:

SAANICH PAIR WED YESTERDAY

Miss Gertrude Lloyd Becomes Bride of Hermon F. Williams at Metropolitan Church

The marriage was celebrated last evening at the Metropolitan Church, Rev. Dr. Spry officiating. Gertrude Lloyd, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Lloyd, of Gordon Head, and Hermon Franklin Williams, only son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Williams, Roy Road, Strawberry Vale.

The church was beautifully decorated with gladioli, sweet peas, ferns and palms, by friends of the bride, the ceremony being performed under a white bell suspended from an arch of greenery and flowers.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her eldest brother, Mr. E. Lloyd, looked lovely in an imported gown of white georgette with hand embroidered bodice and skirt with uneven hem line; a satin bow fell gracefully to the ankle on the side, caught with velvet flowers at the waistline. The embroidered veil was worn with a circle of orange blossoms caught at each side with a medallion of pearls. She carried a shower bouquet of pale pink Ophelia roses, lily of the valley and fern.

Mrs. S. Norman, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and wore a becoming frock of pale blue georgette with long bodice and skirt of pointed tiers; on the left shoulder were pale pink flowers.

Miss Marion Nancarrow, cousin of the groom, was attendant bridesmaid and wore a frock of canary color, similar in style to the matron of honor.

Each wore a bandeau of ribbon and French flowers and carried bouquets of pink carnations, sweet peas and fern.

Capt. Ivan Clark supported the groom and the ushers were Will Lloyd and Harry Nancarrow.

Immediately following the entrance of the bride party, the choir sang "The Voice That Breathed O'er Eden" and during the signing of the register "O Perfect Love."

Mr. Edward Parsons presided at the organ and played the wedding march on the arrival and departure of the wedding party.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the future home of the bride and groom, Roy Road, which was the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Williams.

The bride, becomingly attired in pheasant blue georgette trimmed with white, and beige colored hat, and Mrs. Williams, mother of the groom, in an Alice blue Canton crepe, with beige hat, assisted in receiving the guests.

The rooms were decorated in gold, the three-tier cake which centred the table was trimmed with pale pink rose buds. Those pouring tea were Mrs. Webber and Mrs. Nancarrow.

Mrs. Campbell cut the cake. The bride and groom were left on the midnight boat for Vancouver, and will visit in Seattle before returning. For travelling the bride wore a dress of pale green crepe de Chine, with a blue coat trimmed with grey fur and a grey hat to match.

Among the many gifts was a silver cake stand from the Metropolitan choir, of which the groom is a member. A silver rose basket from the office staff of David Spencer Limited, and a cut glass bowl from the meat department of David Spencer Limited.

Among the out-of-town guests was Mrs. M. Webber, of Whitewood, Sask.

One Mother Says—
Small children find much pleasure in making "Christmas Trees" and their pleasure is not confined to any one season. The Christmas trees are cut from green paper. They are very simple, a triangle with a stem. The trees are pasted on a large heavy piece of paper, and then the child is allowed to cut daisies, perfume, talcum powder, toys, etc. from old catalogues and paste upon the tree for various members of the family. Only dull pointed kindergarten scissors should be allowed for this work as sharp points endanger wee eyes.

Tells Dyspeptics What to Eat

Strict Diets Often Unnecessary

It is a well-known fact that some foods have a strong tendency to produce excessive stomach activity and consequently indigestion. By omitting from daily meals those foods that experience proves do not agree and limiting the diet to certain tasteful unappetizing foods, stomach troubles may in many instances, be slowly overcome. Nine times in ten, however, indigestion, etc., are due to excessive acidity and the premature souring of food in the stomach. Keep the stomach clean and sweet by freeing it of this extra acid and then sufferers can eat the foods they like best and as much as they want in reason and have no stomach trouble at all. Thousands of people do this daily by merely taking after every meal a little Bismarck, which can be had at any good drug store in either powder or tablet form. Bismarck instantly neutralizes stomach acids, stops food fermentation and meals digest as naturally and painlessly as in the stomach of a healthy child. Stomach comfort means a lot and most folks like good Bismarck to eat. Enjoy them both by making Bismarck your daily after-eating protection. (Adv.)

NO DECISION LAND POLICY

Vancouver Delegation Told Nothing Done Yet About Uni- versity Endowment Lands

The foreshore project at Spanish Banks, and administrative control of the university endowment lands area at Vancouver were the subject of representations made by a Vancouver delegation to Hon. P. P. Burden, Minister of Lands, at the Parliament Buildings yesterday afternoon.

The delegation, which included R. L. Reid, K.C., E. P. Davis, K.C., and Rev. Mr. Vance, principal of the Theological College at Point Grey, wanted to be assured that there would be no disposition of either the Spanish Banks project, or change in the administration of the university endowment lands without due notice to those likely to be affected.

The delegates were informed by the minister that so far nothing had been done on either hand, and that before any decision was made due opportunity would be given to all concerned to be heard.

Horticultural Displays Excite Much Admiration

Fruits and Flowers Form Colorful Showing at Fall Fair; Gladioli and Dahlia Exhibits Prove Feature of Floral Section; Apples and Pears of High Quality Shown.

Presenting a striking display of fruits and flowers, the horticultural and floral sections of the Provincial Exhibition proved a centre of interest yesterday when many of the exhibits were judged.

In all, well over 200 classes were judged.

Conspicuous among the exhibits of blooms were the displays of gladioli entered by Angus McKay, Andrew Haggart, Albert Smith and A. R. Harness. Each of these exhibitors carried off honors in the special prize list offered by D. D. McTavish.

The challenge cup for amateurs for the best display of gladioli in suitable containers was awarded to A. R. Harness, who showed twelve varieties of magnificent blooms.

FINE EXHIBIT

In the horticultural trade exhibit classes, Brown's Victoria Nurseries Limited won first prize in the plant and cut flower section. Capitol Dahlia Gardens was awarded the red ticket for the best professional cut flower exhibit of dahlias.

D. D. McTavish again ranked high in the gladioli displays and carried off many prizes with beautiful blooms.

J. Naysmith and F. Hinkman were among the outstanding geranium exhibitors. The latter also collected awards for displays of ferns.

As usual, the decorated table contests were exceptionally interesting. Mrs. C. E. Wilson ranking high in this department of the show.

School children's exhibits, bowls of perennials, hanging baskets and virtually all other modes of floral display were shown to advantage in this section, which has proved one of the most colorful in the show.

FRUIT CLASSES

In the apple classes, J. A. Coatham, W. J. Jennings, F. G. Sheffield and G. Fagerberg were outstanding exhibitors. In both early and late sections they carried off many honors with high-grade fruit.

Results of these four apple championships, along with those of Mrs. Van Arren, James Savidant, A. G. Price and many others featured the pear division also.

J. Baran carried off first honors in all three classes in the grape department.

Keen competition was shown in the berries, dried fruits and currant divisions; where honors were fairly evenly divided.

Results of the horticultural and floral sections judged yesterday follow:

Strength After Childbirth

"After my baby was born I was very weak and run-down. I was not able to do any heavy work but I had to be around on my feet all day. The strain proved too great and I was real sick for about two months. My mother advised Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I started to take it. You should have seen the change in me. I am now well and strong and in good spirits. I have taken the Vegetable Compound ever since I feel my energy lacking. I also take Liver Pills and I find them a wonderful help for constipation."

HUNDREDS SEE FINE DISPLAYS AT EXHIBITION

Bapco Paint Company Draws Favorable Comment For Unique Display

Numerous Features Add to Enjoyment of Visitors in Different Buildings

Showing the most perfect mechanical robot ever displayed in the city, the Bapco Paint Company has drawn hundreds of fair-goers around its exhibit in the Manufacturers' Building during the last three days. Satin Gloss Sam, the colored man shown on all advertisements for this type of paint, has apparently come to life in this section of the building, and is distributing literature on Bapco paint to the visitors. The robot, which was purchased by Herbert Pandey in Paris, not only hands out pamphlets, but winks slyly at passers-by, nods its head in a lifelike manner and apparently talks to the visitors.

In addition to this feature, the display has been made one of the most outstanding in the show by the beautiful setting in which it is placed. With tinted paper the exhibitors have formed a scene representing a sunset among the hills and have thereby produced one of the best backgrounds of any exhibit.

TINTS FEATURED

Another feature of the display is a revolving hexagon, bearing on its different panels various shades of Bapco paint. Examples of the new stippie process in painting floors are also shown in this exhibit.

Among the less imaginative displays is a fine exhibit by the Rockgas Company. In it are shown latest models of gas ranges, radiant heaters, tanks and other equipment necessary for the installation of Rockgas articles.

The entire display is constructed on the design of a kitchen. Fine ivory refrigerators, demonstrating the new system of cold control, are displayed in the Fridgida Products exhibit. In addition to four outstanding refrigerators of unusual attractiveness, a splendid built-in Frigidaire occupies a prominent place in the display. The exhibits are shown to advantage in a tasteful setting enhanced by tall baskets of ferns.

SEVING TEA

Refreshing visitors with a cup of tea or coffee, the staff of the Blue Ribbon Tea and Coffee Company, has proved exceptionally popular since the opening of the fair. In this exhibit, dainty young ladies, artistically garbed in old English dresses serve those wishing to quench their thirst while in the building. The staff is decorated with columns and pyramids of tea and coffee tins, and features a huge representation of a package of the former in Blue Ribbon paper. Silverware and china also help to brighten the display.

STOVES

Latest advances in kitchen ranges, furnaces, grates and heaters are shown in the business-like exhibit of the Albion Stove Works Limited. All articles are of high class and have proved particularly appealing to the housewives who have visited the exhibition. A similar line is carried by the B.C. Hardware and Paint Company Limited, a firm exhibiting its wares in the same building.

Particularly effective is the display of Kinham-Gillespie Coal Company. Two bins of hard coal furnish the base for this display, which is shown to advantage in settings of white shell enclosed in a pillared blue cage with the bins and pillars are artistically covered with brightly tinted paper.

BLIND INSTITUTE STALL

Fine basket work and brooms feature the exhibit of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind. This is also in the Manufacturers' Building. The baskets show a high degree of perfection and attest the efficiency of the workmen in the firm. All are colored in pastoral shades.

In contrast to the popular stucco displays is the exhibit of the Sidney Roofing and Papering Company Limited. This firm has constructed a miniature house, finished with Duroid hexagonal shingles. Situated in the corner of the building, the exhibit has drawn much attention and, while it costs looking and porch, has won the admiration of all who have passed through this section of the fair. A window box of sweet peas and large baskets of begonias have also added to the beauty of the little cottage.

Alcock, Downing and Wright Limited are demonstrating many popular lines of hardware and heating appliances in their display. Outstanding among the items in this exhibit are two motor driven lawn mowers, which have caused a great deal of interest among tired business men. Sunbeam cabinet heaters and circulating furnaces have also been featured in the exhibit.

THE SPORTS MIRROR

Cleveland, until a few nights ago, had a big wooden stadium in an amusement park where the John Carroll University football team played its home games. The stadium isn't there any more. It was burned down.

The university people since last fall had spent $10,000 improving the turf on the playing field and they were disturbed when the announcement was made that the owners of the stadium had leased the place for a prize fight.

They knew what the tramping of a crowd of feet would do to the turf, and they secured an injunction restraining the prize fight promoters from using the stadium.

And then the stadium burned down.

And the firemen said when they first saw the blaze: "That's a touch sure."

Bucky Harris, manager of the Detroit Tigers, says that Lefty Grove, by a mile, is the best pitcher in the American League.

"It isn't easy for me to say that because I have that big fellow United who is one of the greatest pitchers of our day," he said. "I can say, though, that Lefty is the best right-hander in the league."

"Herb Pennock of the Yankees is a great left-hander. Many of the men in our league think he is a better pitcher than Grove. But when you get them down to the fine points in a discussion of pitching they will generally wind up with the conclusion that Pennock is the smarter of the two."

"But I'll go for Grove. There are times when you can outguess Pennock. There are a lot of smart batters in the league. Batters who are just as smart as batters as Pennock is smart as a pitcher. They can match wits."

"But what can you do when a pitcher like Grove throws one down the alley so fast you can't see it? Against our club several times this year he has been so fast that Mickey Cochrane had the ball in his glove before our batter could get the bat off his shoulder. Grove has other stuff than speed also, but he relies mostly on his fast ball. And it's a beaut. If you can hit it."

Harris is willing to admit that his Tigers aren't going to win the pennant and without making predictions he gives you the impression he thinks the Athletics are the champions.

"Look at the hitting they're getting. We thought some of those fellows were hitting over their heads, but it's past time for them to flop if they were to be flops."

"Look at the pitching they have. I wish I had one or two of the pitchers that Mack doesn't even have to use. Yes, I wish I had some of that pitching."

Babe Ruth has been in nine world series. Looks like that same record will still stand when the 1938 conflict is over.

Earl Sande is one fellow who has been ground in circles and got some place. He has ridden about 950 winners in ten years.

Players in the annual invitation tennis tournament of the Newport, R.I., Casino have a lot to worry about.

Even when there is no argument over a tennis match the players go to court about it.

Gus Sonnenberg, heavyweight wrestling champion, was removed from his title by the Pennsylvania State Athletic Commission, because he will not wrestle anyone but "cousins."

Henry Johnson, young Yankee pitcher, who was poison to the Philadelphia Athletics last year, has an injured spine and had to be placed on the retired list.

When a race horse takes a fence, so do the folks who plopped their dough down on him.

A forty-five-foot screen on top of the right field wall at Dunn Field, Cleveland, was built to keep Sam Crawford, then the greatest slugger in the American League, from making too many home runs. Before the present layout in Cleveland was completed in 1910, Wahoo Sam used to hit many a home into the right field bleachers.

Barnard, now president of the American League, then business manager of the Naps, planned the antidote for Sam's four-sackers.

Pitcher Jack Quinn is the only regular member of the Athletics who ever has taken part in a World Series game. But Eddie Collins, Connie Mack's assistant, has taken part in six World Series, and George Burns, relief first baseman, in one, 1920. Four others, Pitches Grove and Earnshaw and Infielders Davis and Blanton, all graduates of the Baltimore Orioles, participated in several "little World Series" when members of the Orioles.

Bill Narlesky, shortstop of the Boston Red Sox, has a war record although only a minor league rookie. When only sixteen years of age, he enlisted in the United States infantry, twenty-one days before the United States declared war, and served sixteen months overseas and was not mustered out until 1919. He did not start playing baseball professionally until 1923. Because of his war record, Boston writers and players call him "Cap."

The Pirates have the best outfield in the major leagues. In the two Wagners and Comorosky, according to some writers, but there is lots of competition. The Yankee outfield, with Combs, Meusel and Ruth, is regarded by others as a great outfield, while the Phils' aggregation, Klein, O'Doul and Southern, also is advanced as an excellent gang of fly chasers.

ONE-SIDED VICTORIES IN CRICKET TOURNEY

Five C's and Cowichan Register Second Wins and Head Six Teams Playing For Pacific Coast Honors; Pillar For C's and Reed For Vancouver Register Centuries.

Cowichan and the Five C's yesterday went to the top in the Pacific Coast cricket tournament in progress here when they scored their second victories. Cowichan swamped Okanagan, winning by over 200 runs and three wickets, while the Five C's, greatly aided by Pillar's 108, not out, scored a fairly easy victory over Victoria.

The third game, between Vancouver and the Incogs was won by the former 222-89.

The century by Pillar and another by Reed of Vancouver were features of the day's play. Reed put on a total of 138 to boost his team's total.

Max Schmeling Takes Holiday From Troubles

New York, Aug. 21.—Max Schmeling, German heavyweight, whose license has been revoked by the New York State Athletic Commission for his refusal to meet Phil Scott under the promotion of Humbert Fugère, has arrived in New York after an exhibition tour extending to the Pacific coast and will sail Saturday for Germany. He plans to return to the United States after a brief vacation.

Schmeling said he would fight Scott for Fugère only if permitted to sign a new contract in place of the one the promoter now holds with the signature of Arthur Hallow, the manager disclaimed by Schmeling but recognized by the boxing commission.

Strong Field Seeking Title Of Espinosa

Western Open Golf Tournament Opens To-day at Milwaukee, Wis.

Horton Smith, Tommy Armour and Jock Hutchison Among Those Entered

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 21.—The vanguard of a record field of 278 golfers, some great and many near-great, unpacked their war clubs to open fire to-day on the western open throne of Little Abe Espinosa of Chicago, at the deceptive Ozaukee Country Club course.

It was the most brilliant field in the tournament's thirty years of play, and so many stars were entered that the champion was far from a favorite. In fact, the sturdy little Spaniard who won the title against a far more mediocre field last year, was considered a "longshot."

Ranking ahead of him as favorites were such shot makers as Horton Smith, Joplin, Mo., who has not won a golf title since the French open, and who is just about due; Tommy Armour of Orchard Lake, Mich., former national open champion and a brilliant welder of irons; Gene Sarazen of Flushing, L.I., another former national title holder; Jock Hutchison, Chicago, whose golf this season looks the best since he captured the British open from Al Espinosa, the champion's brother, who lost to Bobby Jones in the 1929 national open playoff and several others, including Wild Bill Mehrlorn, New York; Ned Alms, Milwaukee; Francis Ouimet, holder of the Ozaukee course record; Emmet French, Youngstown, Ohio; Bobby Cruikshank, New York; and Henri Cluel, the dapper little Italian from Stratford, Conn.

Because of the large entry, to-day and to-morrow will be used for the initial eighteen-hole qualifying round. The low 150 from this first round will play eighteen additional holes Friday and the low sixty-four in this will decide the title over eighteen holes on Saturday. It is a medal play for the entire seventy-two holes.

Coville Looms As Strong Contender, Beating Champion

Twenty-five-year-old Vancouver Player Stages Brilliant Uphill Battle to Win Over Ross Sommerville, Ontario, the Present Title Holder, in First Round at Jasper; Freddy Wood and Jack Fraser Are Other Province Representatives in Running; K. C. Allen Wins Western Tourney Match.

(By Times Special Representative)

Jasper Park Lodge, Aug. 21.—Playing the most brilliant golf of his career, Cecil Coville, Twenty-five-year-old star of the Marine Drive Club, Vancouver, sprang the most unexpected upset yesterday in the Canadian Amateur Golf Championship by defeating Ross Sommerville of the London Hunt Club, Toronto, defending champion, in the opening thirty-six-hole medal round. Coville's victory simply astounded the majority of the experts, who had practically awarded the former champion a place in the finals. His margin was one hole.

Coville, after being three down at the end of the first eighteen holes, displayed marvelous courage and fighting spirit to stage a thrilling comeback and pull the match out of the fire on the thirty-sixth green. At the finish the plucky westerner was cheered and heartily congratulated by the large crowd circling the green.

Up until his victory the diminutive Vancouver player was unknown to the majority, but now everybody is looking him over. Coville was the runner-up in the British Columbia amateur championship in 1927 and finished second in the Vancouver city championship this year. Although he has been in many finals, he has yet to capture a championship. Western fans are pulling for him to "break the ice" by copying the Canadian title.

Sommerville played good golf yesterday but Coville matched him stroke for stroke. Cool as a block of ice, Coville never let the large gallery bother him and he seemed to get better as the match progressed. In the second round to-day, also over the thirty-six-hole route, Coville stacks up against Jack Outhbert of Edmonton, former western title holder, who eliminated Alfred Bull of Vancouver yesterday 10 and 9. The Vancouver lad is favored to win although the prairie representative is expected to provide him with stiff competition.

At the completion of yesterday's round three British Columbia representatives were still in the running, including, besides Coville, Freddy Wood, who defeated Happy Fraser of Montreal, a former Canadian champion, 2 and 1, and Jack Fraser, who defeated Hugh Jacques of Montreal, 5 and 4.

THREE PUTTS
In the Coville-Sommerville match the easterner started off on the right foot by winning the first hole when Cecil Coville, three-putted the green. At the second the Vancouver boy ran into tough luck, losing the hole after getting a birdie four, when Sommerville clicked off an eagle three to go 2 up.

The next two holes were halved in four. At the fifth, a par-four hole 435 yards long, Coville sank a beautiful three for a birdie to Sommerville's four. Sommerville got another birdie at the sixth, sinking a seven-foot putt for a three and then won the seventh with a three after Coville's second shot had gone wide of the green. The eighth was halved in four. Coville got into a trap at the ninth and took a five to Sommerville's five. The tenth was halved while Coville took the eleventh with a four to "Sandy's" five.

FIVE DOWN AT FOURTEENTH
At the twelfth Sommerville had a three to Coville's four. Coville three-putted the thirteenth, losing the hole to become four down. Sommerville went five up when Coville was over the green with his third shot at the fourteenth, taking a six to Sommerville's five. The fifteenth was halved. At the sixteenth the Vancouver boy started a comeback, winning the hole with a four to Sommerville's five. He took the next hole by the same score and the eighteenth was halved in four, the round ending with Sommerville three up.

The afternoon started off with the players having the first hole with fours. At the twentieth Cecil cut into Sommerville's lead with a four to his five. He further reduced the advantage to one up at the next hole.

BITTER STRUGGLE
By this time the gallery had prepared themselves for a bitter struggle. Coville squared the match at the twenty-second, when Sommerville took three putts. Both found traps at the following hole and it was halved. At the twenty-fourth Sommerville uncorked some of the golf he is noted for. His tee shot was into the trees while Coville was straight down the center of the fairway. "Sandy" played a beautiful chip shot out and followed up with a splendid third, the ball dropping twelve feet from the pin. He holed the putt for a half. At the twenty-fifth Sommerville got a birdie two to Coville's three, again taking the lead. The easterner went two up by taking a four to Coville's five at the twenty-sixth.

Coville fought back and at the twenty-seventh reduced the lead to one-up. The twenty-eighth was halved in five. It was at the twenty-ninth that Cecil started the fireworks. He reeled off a birdie three to square the match for the second time. At the thirtieth Sommerville got his lead back when Coville three-putted the hole, but the B.C. player again put the match all-square at the next hole when Sommerville drove his tee shot into the trees and took a five to Cecil's four.

OVER THE GREEN
At the thirty-second Sommerville went over the green with his second shot. This put the Vancouver golfer one up with four holes to go. At the thirty-third both found traps and halved the hole.

New Star Appears On Horizon of Three English Players Win Easily In Open Tourney

Women's Tennis In United States

Betty Nuthall Scores Victory Over Gertrude Dwyer

Forest Hills, N.Y., Aug. 21.—Three English stars remained in the United States women's tennis championship after yesterday's play, all winning their matches more or less easily. Betty Nuthall, the principal threat from Great Britain, defeated Gertrude Dwyer, New York, 6-3, 6-1.

Mrs. B. C. Covell had little trouble disposing of Mrs. W. H. Endicott, Boston, 6-1, 6-2, and Mrs. Phoebe Watson defeated Mrs. A. J. Lamme Jr., Rye, N.Y., 6-2, 6-0.

Helen Willis, the defending champion, steam-rollered Mrs. Charlotte Hosmer Chapin, 6-0, 6-1.

OTHER SCORES
Sarah Halfey defeated Mrs. Shepherd Baron, 6-0, 6-4.
Mrs. May Sutton, Santa Monica, Cal., defeated Selma Marlow, Los Angeles, 5-7, 8-6, 6-4.

The Marjorie Gladman, Santa Monica, Cal., defeated Marjorie Sachs, Boston, 6-3, 7-5.
Mrs. Mollie Mallory, New York, defeated Mrs. J. Saunders Taylor, New York, 6-2, 6-1.

Mary Greff, Kansas City, defeated Clara Greenashan, New York, 6-0, 6-3.
Helen Jacobs, Berkeley, Cal., and Betty Nuthall, England, won by default from Mrs. H. D. Eaton and Mrs. Bronson, New York.

Mrs. Phoebe Watson and Mrs. Helen Mitchell, England, defeated Mrs. V. V. Hester, Glenview, N.Y., and Mrs. A. J. Lamme Jr., Rye, N.Y., 6-1, 6-1.
Mrs. May Bundy, Santa Monica, Cal., and Josephine Cruikshank, Santa Ana, Cal., defeated Mrs. C. H. Hitchcock and Marie Wagner, New York, 6-1, 6-1.

Virginia Rice, Boston, and Evelyn Parsons, Cal., defeated Alice Francis, Orange, N.J., and Mrs. B. F. Stenson, of New York, 6-2, 12-10 in the doubles.

Like "Little Bill" Johnston, of Davis Cup renown, Miss Palfrey hits a tennis ball with a power all out of proportion to her pounds and inches. It was speed as well as court craft that carried her to victory yesterday over Mrs. Dorothy Shepherd-Baron, of England's Wightman Cup team, after nervousness had deprived her of a chance of the opening set.

HAS TIGHT FIGHT
Miss Palfrey is one of four players still surviving who were not seeded in the draw. Mrs. Shepherd-Baron was one of the seeded number and so is Mary Greff, of Kansas City, whom Sarah meets in the third round play this afternoon. If successful the Brookline miss is to try conclusions Thursday with Helen Jacobs, providing the young star from Berkeley comes through according to schedule against Mrs. R. C. Covell, of the English contingent to-day.

The other leading entrants likewise were expected to traverse the third round successfully. Miss Willis who lost only one game in two matches, met Alice Francis, of Orange, N.J., while Betty Nuthall, the principal English threat, was to meet Mrs. May Bundy, the Santa Monica veteran.

JOKERS AND SONS RESUME ARGUMENT OVER BALL TITLE

Titular Series Continues To-night at Royal Athletic Park

All square and three to go is about the way the City League baseball play-off stands, to use golf terms. The Sons of Canada have one game in their pockets, while the Jokers have another. The other fixture which resulted in a tie goes into the discard.

To-night at the Royal Athletic Park, the two squads will do battle again in what will probably prove the crucial engagement of the five-game series. The start is set for 6 o'clock with the usual officials.

West Stickney, who proved the hero of the second encounter when he held the Sons to a few measly hits, and then cracked a homerun, which spelled victory for the Jokers, will again have the task of turning back the Canadians. Palfrey will oppose him, it is expected, and a real pitcher's battle is expected.

Chicago and Philadelphia Apparently Coast to Flags

Leading Teams In Major Leagues Stay Well Out In Front

Similar Situation Develops in Two Ball Circuits, Athletics With Twelve Games in American and Cubs With Nine and a Half in National; Chicago Splits Double Bill With Giants, But Gain Half Game; Red Lucas Hangs Up Sixteenth Win of Season.

The two major league races have developed almost identical situations with the Philadelphia Athletics twelve games in front of their nearest American League opposition and the Chicago Cubs nine and one-half games to the good in the National.

Although the Cubs got no better than an even break with the New York Giants yesterday, they increased their lead by half a game as the Pittsburgh Pirates took another on the chin from the Phillies.

Both Cub-Giant games were pitchers' battles. Freddy Fitzsimmons out-pitched Guy Bush in the opener, and the Giants won by 4-1. In the night-cap, however, Hal Carlson blanked the Giants with six hits, and the Cubs won 1-0.

Bush, losing his third game of the season as against seventeen victories, were the victims of some poor fielding by McMillan and English. Wild throws by these Cub infielders paved the way for all four Giant runs. Fitzsimmons, however, would have had a stout himself had not Bill Terry dropped an easy throw in the ninth.

Carl Hubbell gave Carlson a great argument in the second game, a triple by Hornsby and Wilson's single giving the Cubs the only run of the game in the fourth.

THIRD STRAIGHT WIN

Philadelphia conquered the Pirates for the third time in a row by an 8-6 count. Brame was shelled for eight Philadelphia runs in the first three innings, but Peitz and Hill held the Quakers scoreless the rest of the game. Lou Koupal pitched great ball until the seventh when the Corsairs scored five runs, through the on Paul Waner's homer.

Claude Willoughby rushed to the rescue and held the Pittsburghers runless thereafter.

Thanks to another brilliant pitching performance by Ray Moss, the Brooklyn Dodgers got an even break in two games with the St. Louis Cards.

After Wes Willie Sherdel had out-pitched Dazey Vance to give the Cards the first game 3-2, Moss blanked the Redbirds with four hits and walked off with a 4-0 triumph. It was Moss's fourth successive win.

Red Lucas pitched the Cincinnati Reds to an easy 6-2 victory over Boston to record his sixteenth win of the season.

In the American League the Yanks picked up a game on the Athletics by beating Chicago 5-4, while the A's were losing to St. Louis 2-1.

HOMER DECIDED BATTLE

Ralph Kress's homer with one on in the sixth decided a tight pitchers' battle between Alvin Crowder, the Browns and George Earnshaw and Jack Quinn of the A's at St. Louis. Crowder permitted only four hits.

Urban Faber, veteran Chicago right-hander, was presented with various gifts on "his day" by 16,000 fans, but he could not check a heavy Yank batting assault. The Yanks bunched their eleven hits to good advantage. Tom Zachary received credit for his ninth straight victory of the season, although seven hits into as many runs, clinching game, and added another to it in the final frame.

NINTH INNING RALLY

San Francisco, Aug. 21.—Sacramento Senators opened the series here with the Missions with a 9-6 win yesterday. A three-run rally in the ninth gave the Senators sufficient margin to nose out the locals, who made two runners in their half of the last frame. Bob Bryan, of the visitors, and Nelson, of the Missions, were hit freely, the former for eleven hits and the latter for an even dozen.

BURKE KNOCKED OUT

Burke was knocked out of the box in the first inning by Cleveland, but Myles Thomas stopped the Indians dead thereafter, and Washington walked away with a 6-2 victory. Thomas came in with two runs over, the bases filled and none out in the first inning. He retired the side with-out further scoring and allowed only six hits all told.

The rampaging Boston Red Sox assaulted three Detroit pitchers for fifteen hits and beat the Tigers 12-8. Charlie Ruffing went the route for Boston, although he was nicked for thirteen hits.

THE HOME RUN PARADE

Rogers Hornsby, ace of the right-hand sockers, absorbed about all the glory gathered yesterday by the "Big Six" club in eight times at bat in the Cubs' double-header with the Giants, the Rajah hit safely four times, including a double and triple, scored two runs, and won one of the games by counting the only score of the contest. Hornsby lifted his average two points to .360. Peeble sticking to all the rest times at bat in the Cubs' double-header with the Giants, the Rajah hit safely four times, including a double and triple, scored two runs, and won one of the games by counting the only score of the contest.

A Spectacular Finish —By Jimmy Thompson

When the count was taken at the recent Ontario provincial championship track meet at Toronto the Hamilton Olympic Club had taken thirty-six points as compared to sixteen by the Toronto Central L. their nearest rivals. The Hamilton club also won eight out of the seventeen provincial titles and took all but three of the track events. A most unusual accident took place in the half-mile event, when after the first lap Phil Edwards, the world-famous British Guiana flash, running under the Hamilton Olympic Club colors, attempted to change his position on the track and passing in front of Buster Johnston, was severely spiked and had his shoe torn off. Edwards finished the race in the lead but lacked his usual final punch, and it was not known until after the race that he had finished with one shoe off and a cut leg.

South African Cricket Threat Turned Back; Record Is Made By Visitors in Final Match

London, Aug. 21 (Canadian Press Cable)—South Africa's challenge to English cricket, which reached its most dangerous strength in the drawn fifth and concluding test match at Kennington Oval yesterday, has been turned back.

The Spinboks, however, though they lost the rubber, came out of the five-game series with three creditable draws. Yesterday by scoring 462 for eight wickets and declaring in their first innings, they put up their greatest score ever compiled by a South African team against England.

In addition, H. G. Deane, the South African captain, and E. W. Tyler, the veteran, made a new record for a fourth wicket stand in Anglo-African matches—214—which displaces the 143 made by Nourse and Hite at Durban in 1910.

If the visitors pounded the English crack bowlers as they have rarely been treated by Monday and yesterday the great English batsmen rose brilliantly in the emergency to save their side from a single innings defeat. First Hobbs and Sutcliffe and then Sutcliffe and Hammond played in confident style to make a draw possible. Sutcliffe scored two centuries in this game while Hammond just passed the three figure mark. Innings scores were: South Africa 492, England 298 and 264 for one wicket, aggregate 522.

caps To Meet Courtenay In Title Battle

The Victoria Capitals, who are deadlocked with Courtenay at the top of the Lower Island Baseball League, will settle accounts with their rivals when they journey up-island on Sunday afternoon.

If the Caps win the first game, they will win the new Lower Island championship, and the second game will be a sudden death affair, with the Vancouver Island championship at stake. Though winning two straight games from such a ball club as Courtenay and away from home at that, is a difficult task, the Capitals on their showing to date should be quite confident of victory. It is hoped by the local management that a large contingent of Victorians will make the trip.

The lack of time before the British Columbia play-off had made necessary the sudden death game for the Island title.

NOTTINGHAM WINS

London, Aug. 21 (Canadian Press Cable)—Nottinghamshire maintained themselves at the head of the English country cricket championship table yesterday when they got five points for first innings lead on Lancashire.

The scores were: Nottinghamshire 469 for nine wickets declared; Lancashire 247 and 175 for four. Payton scored 169 for Nottinghamshire. The match was played at Nottingham.

SUTCLIFFE MAKES ALL-TIME RECORD IN CRICKET TEST

London, Aug. 21 (Canadian Press Cable)—The cricket test match between England and South Africa, ended yesterday, produced a great personal triumph for Herbert Sutcliffe, who made over a century in each innings. This was the fourth occasion on which the noted Yorkshire batsman had done this. Two of his doubles having occurred in test matches, a feat unparalleled in international cricket. He scored two centuries against Australia at Melbourne in 1925. The other only player to score two centuries in one game against South Africa is Russell, the Essex professional, who hit 140 and 111 at Durban in 1923.

ROSE OF SHARON ACCLAIMED QUEEN OF WESTERN TURF

Kentucky Three-year-old Wins Chicago Test Stake, Her Ninth Victory

Hi-jack Is Upset in Sanford Stakes at Saratoga, Winning By Nose

Chicago, Aug. 21.—That great filly from the Blue Grass state of Kentucky, Rose of Sharon, added another jewel to her crown yesterday by winning the $11,000 Chicago test stake at Hawthorne. The victory strengthened her claim as "Queen of the Western Turf."

Rose of Sharon, owned by Johnson M. Camden, former United States Senator or Versailles, Ky., won from Karl Eitel, winner of the $25,000 Fairmount Derby, by a length and a half before a cheering crowd of 15,000. Thistle Fyrn was third, a nose back of Karl Eitel, with Dr. Freeland, the entry of Walter J. Salmon of New York, and winner of the $50,000 Preakness, fourth in the field of ten.

By her victory, Rose of Sharon added $7,400 to her earnings, increasing her winnings this year to $42,515. She has won four of the big Oaks stakes this season, and her victory yesterday stamps her as the best filly in the west in years, and probably the greatest three-year-old in the west, regardless of sex.

HURSTED TO FRONT

The race, at a mile and a sixteenth, was run in 1:44 4-5. Rose of Sharon leaped to the front at the rise of the barrier, with Jockey McCrossen hustling her into first place as the first sweep past the clubhouse, 37.

Karl Eitel, owned by Alderman John J. Coughlin of Chicago, hung on to second place all the way.

With the lead safely in hand McCrossen took Rose of Sharon under slight restraint, but gave the filly her head when they began the stretch drive. She drew away from Karl Eitel by two lengths, with Thistle Fyrn moving into third place.

Vermajo, Rose of Sharon had plenty of speed in reserve and thundered on to victory.

LOW PRICES

Karl Eitel and Rose of Sharon were about equal choices in the betting, with the winner paying $5.75 to win in the $2 mutes. Her place price was $3.34 and $2.64 to show. The place price of Karl Eitel was $2.86 and $2.82 to show, with Thistle Fyrn paying $3.34 to show.

Rose of Sharon, the daughter of Light Brigade-Rosamundi, has run only one poor race this season. This was in the $60,000 Arlington classic, following this disappointment the filly was taken out of training for a short time, and since returning the filly has won twice impressively. She has won nine out of thirteen races this season, finishing out of the money only once.

UPSET AT SARATOGA

New York, Aug. 21.—The seventeen-year-old Sanford Stakes, made famous by the lone defeat of Man o' War, was turned into another upset yesterday as George D. Widener's Hi-jack led nine two-year-olds home over the six furlong jaunt at Saratoga.

Although victorious his last time out over a mediocre field, the son of John P. Grier was not figured to finish better than third. The Ranocosa stables Grattan was much better liked, as was Gifford A. Cochran's Polygamus and W. R. Coe's Black Majesty.

The race had a guaranteed cash value of $5,000, in addition to a silver cup donated by John Sanford.

MALONEY WINS OVER ITALIAN

Boston, Mass., Aug. 21.—Jim Maloney, of South Boston, won the decision from Riccardo Bertrazolo, of Italy, in a ten-round heavyweight bout at Braves Field last night.

Keefe Mare Turns Table On the Lion

After Nose Defeat Last Week, War Salam Reverses Call Over Coeur de Lion

Pretty Finish in Seventh Features Willows Races; Heroakia Is Long Shot

A nose finish in the mile and sixteenth in the last race provided the biggest thrill at the Willows Race Track yesterday afternoon. Only one long price was recorded when Heroakia captured the second, while favorites got down in front in a number of the events.

War Salam, J. Keefe's five-year-old mare, which last Saturday provided a big surprise by nearly beating the heavily-backed Coeur de Lion, turned the tables on her former victor when she won by a nose in the seventh race. Both ponies received plenty of public support, and in usual style Coeur de Lion went out on top, opening up a gap of three lengths.

Evidently profiting by his former experience, Jockey de Ford, who had a leg up on Coeur de Lion, held his mount well in hand and seemed to have the race clinched, but with her closing rush, War Salam got up in the final stride to take the decision. The few pounds advantage which she held following Saturday's race altered the decision. The Keefe mare gained a nose win, whereas Coeur de Lion got the call by a like margin last week.

HEROAKIA WINS

Heroakia, a three-year-old filly on her first out of the year, found few among the better to follow her, but went away from the gate in fine style and scored a safe win over Black Astor, the favorite. She returned $23.20 on $2 non-bets and over $58 across the board.

Anderson was the leading jockey of the day, piloting his mounts to victory the first and second races, and scoring a third with Tender Beth in the sixth.

NARROW MARGIN

Forging ahead in the last fifty yards, R. Pillans' Maurice Mulcahy, snatched honors in the first by a narrow margin from Little Bhasia, the well-backed favorite. Jack Jr. under a good ride by Teasdale, secured the show.

Little Smoke, an even-money favorite, broke on top with Robertson ahead in the third, and despite a strong challenge by Jim Rogan when rounding the last turn, had plenty of speed in reserve to win. Rogan was second and Starwilm an easy third.

GOOD RIDE

Bobby Greenwood brought Joe G. down front in the fourth after a capable ride. He held his mount just behind the pace until ready to move and then won with little trouble, despite a determined effort by A. Grady's Moonchild, which topped the place. Willamette was third, while Mrs. R. Lowe's Oregon Rose, the favorite, failed to get into third running.

Trade Wind, $3.60, $2.85, $2.75, $2.50, $2.30, $2.10, $1.90, $1.70, $1.50, $1.30, $1.10, $0.90, $0.70, $0.50, $0.30, $0.10, $0.05, $0.02, $0.01.

YOUNGSTERS BEAT DOUBLES CHAMPS

Allison and Van Ryan Lose to Neer and Barnes at Newport

Newport, R.I., Aug. 21.—P. Neer, Portland, Ore., and young Bruce Barnes of Austin, Tex., stepped out on the historic Newport tennis courts yesterday and overhauled Johnny Van Ryan and Wilmer Allison, who became the world's champion doubles team by defeating Henri Cochet and Jean Borotra in the recent Davis Cup play with France. The scores were 6-4, 1-6, 6-3.

The defeat of Van Ryan and Allison was the greatest upset of the tournament, which opened Monday.

Big Bill Tilden and F. Hunter were partly able to nose out a victory in their thrilling extra set match with Edward Jacobs of Baltimore, and Tania Abe of Japan, 5-7, 6-3, 6-1.

Sixteen players, including all of the favorites except Johnny Doe of Santa Monica, California, were able to advance into the quarter finals of the singles. Doe was defeated by Paul Dorian, young French player, 6-3, 7-5, in a fourth round match.

B.C. Athletes Ready For Big Meet at Banff

Vancouver, B.C., Aug. 21.—Young British Columbia athletes who, despite a heavy track at the recent British Columbia high schools Olympiad managed to clip precious seconds from existing records, will be represented at Banff, where the Canadian Amateur Athletic Union's annual championship meet will be held between August 30 and September 2.

Among British Columbia youths who will challenge the speed kings of the east, notably the strong delegation which is coming to the mountain playground from Hamilton, Ont., to say nothing of other sprinters from other parts of the country, will be the big and husky Fred Large of Cranbrook, who ran 100 yards in 10 2-5 seconds and the 220-yard dash in 22 2-5 seconds at the high school meet here. Large, making this time on a track usually used for horse racing and considered by no means best adapted for human high speed travel, is expected by backers to make a creditable showing on the smooth track, where the Banff championships will be run off.

WEIGHT TOSSERS

Vancouver's big boy weight tossers will be conspicuous among entries for the field events, it appears, with Bob Gill, husky city policeman and all-

SETTLING THE POINT IN GOLF

When the Ball Hits the Flagstick

The rule covering the incident of a golfer's ball striking a flagstick is often incorrectly invoked in match play.

When, in stroke competition, a competitor's ball lying within twenty yards of the hole is played and strikes the flagstick or the person standing at the hole, the penalty shall be two strokes.

There is no penalty for hitting the flagstick in match play except when the flag is being held by either of the caddies. If the ball strikes the caddy or the player whose caddy is struck loses the hole.

NOTTINGHAM WINS

Bellingham, Aug. 21.—A second attempt to recover the bodies of Miss Theima Martin, Seattle librarian, and K. Furuya, Japanese artist, who perished in a blizzard on Mount Shukashan was to be made from Mount Baker Lodge to-day.

The rescue party returned to the lodge last night after locating the body of Miss Martin but it was considered too late to attempt to carry it to the lodge. Furuya's body was not located.

A snowstorm hindered the searching party.

AT BRITAIN'S CLASSIC YACHT REGATTA

Britain's most graceful and swiftest sailing craft competed in the classic Royal Southampton Yacht Club Regatta. Pictured above, in the foreground, the yacht Corona is heading to the wind as it slashed through a choppy sea. Immediately behind her are the Sumaran and the Lady Anne. It was the first time that King George, who was convalescing from his recent illness, had missed the famous event.

hole, Coville holed out a seven-foot putt at the thirty-fourth to gain a well-earned half.

Somerville earned the applause of the gallery when he squared the match at the thirty-fifth. Coville drove his second shot well past the pin and took a five to Somerville's four, his putt for a four hanging on the lip of the cup.

At the home hole Coville had a perfect drive, while Somerville's was on the edge of the rough to the left of the green. Coville placed his iron shot right on the green while Somerville landed his into the bunker to the left of the hole. "Sandy" made a gallant effort to reach the pin, but took two strokes to get out. With two strokes to win the hole, Coville laid his putt within a foot of the cup and Somerville conceded it, walking over to shake hands with the Vancouver boy.

MONTY HILL'S FIGHT
Monty Hill, young Vancouver ex-caddie, put up a good fight against Eddie Held, of New York. Monday's medalist. After being two down to the United States star at the end of the morning round, he staged a great come-back on the second eighteen to square the match at the thirtieth hole. Mistakes in putting at the thirty-first and thirty-second holes practically cost the Vancouver boy the match. He missed a two-and-a-half-foot putt at the former hole to become one down again. At the thirty-second Held drove his tee shot in the mud at the left of the fairway and took two to get up on the green. With two putts to win the hole, Hill took three, and only got a half. At the thirty-third ("The Bad Baby") Hill went into the bunker and became two down. The thirty-fourth was halved and Held was dornie two. At the next hole the New Yorker scored a four and ended the match. Hill driving his second shot wide of the green and taking a six.

BLAST RAZES STANDARD OIL FLAGSHIP

All of New York Harbor felt the force of the explosion which wrecked the tanker William Rockefeller, flagship of the Standard Oil Company's fleet, at its pier in Bayonne, N.J. Two men were killed and seven injured by the blast. Pictured above is the wreckage on the deck of the vessel, with smoke arising from the holds. A serious waterfront blaze was averted when tugs towed the flaming ship out into the harbor.

eighteen, Freddy Wood was forced to play his best golf to finally win two and one.

Don. Carrick, a former Canadian champion, found a Tartar in Jack Nash, of London, Ontario, winning one up. Carrick was forced to sink an eight-foot putt on the final hole to win out. His playing was not up to standard, his driving and putting being off his usual form.

W. K. LANGMAN, OF COLUMBUS, OHIO, last year's runner-up, came through easily, defeating Bob Starkey, of Edmonton, twelve and eleven.

When Buying Was One Long Experiment

"I'll try a pound of this," said your grandmother, "—if you are sure it's fresh."

That was some time in the second hour of her morning search for groceries. She went from one open barrel or box to the next, along an unappetizing row of crackers, teas, cereals, dried fruits, lard and sugar—all in bulk. She shooed the flies away, looked at, touched and tasted each article suspiciously, and finally decided to buy or not to buy, as her judgment directed. She couldn't trust a servant to do it. It was a day's work in itself.

To-day, in two minutes, you give the grocer your order. You know that everything you get will be fresh, pure, attractively and cleanly packed. Why? Because you ask for advertised brands.

Advertising has taken hours of hard labor out of every housewife's day, and lines of worry off her forehead. It has made the morning's marketing a matter of certainty instead of guesswork.

Do ALL of your buying this easier way—
read the advertisements!

Ice Implement
When serving iced beverages to many

For four days father and son made afternoon trips to the hospital to see the woman who had deserted them and who had now flung herself upon their mercy. After that first day, those trips were not mentioned. Not even Curtis referred to each other that evening he had no appetite for his dinner, and Nan realized, helplessly, that Iris was suffering from the same ailment. She could not imagine the boy's quick return: "I guess my own mother knows what's good for me!" No; her hands were tied.

The fourth day after Iris's return was Christmas Eve. Nan had bought an elaborate carpentering outfit for Curtis, as well as all the materials he could need in constructing a toy aeroplane. His father had consulted her anxiously as to the advisability of giving the boy a bicycle. Knowing Curtis's passionate desire for the wheel, Nan had encouraged its purchase, with the assurance that he would obey their injunctions to ride only on sidewalks. But the bicycle was not bought. On Christmas Eve Morgan confessed hesitatingly:

"His mother was afraid of an accident. She—thought perhaps a toy automobile would be more safe. It's quite big. Operates with pedals, you know. I hope he'll like it."

Nan flushed hotly as she applauded the choice with apparent cheerfulness. Of course Iris had put her in the wrong, had made John feel that his son's very life was in danger, so long as Nan had control of him.

Decorating the Christmas tree was a rather ghastly ordeal, for the ghost of the living mother who should have been there hovered over the girl and the man during the whole ceremony. "No fair peeping or shaking the box," Morgan warned Nan, with a forced jocularity that made her throat ache with tears, as he tied her present to a branch of the tree.

"I wonder if he's giving Iris a Christmas present," she could not help asking herself. "Of course he helped Curtis choose something for her, and I'm glad he did. But oh, I'll be relieved when Christmas is over!"

But when Christmas Day actually dawned, all her own private heartache was swallowed up in a terrible anxiety about Curtis. Nan and Morgan had said to each other with pretended reluctance that they supposed the boy would be up before daylight, whooping over his tree and presents, and making it impossible for anyone else to sleep, but when 8 o'clock came there had been no sound from his room. Vaguely worried, Nan went to wake him and found him heavy-eyed with fever. Within half an hour Dr. Black was there, looking grave, and pronouncing the trouble an upset digestion.

"And I've been holding you up as an example to all the mother on my street," the doctor chided Nan gently. "Have you been falling down on your job?"

John Curtis Morgan, who was standing beside his wife, answered for her: "I'll take the blame, doctor. I'm afraid I've been indulging the boy behind his mother—Nan's back. She never lets him eat between meals, but I—"

He stumbled over the lie, shifted his eyes.

The doctor nodded, his eyes narrowed. "I think I understand, Morgan. But no one must be permitted to tamper with Nan's discipline of the boy. No one!"

At the end of the long, anxious day came a telegram for John Curtis Morgan.

CHAPTER XXI

For once, at least, Nan's justly famed "woman's intuition" played her false. She was so sure that the telephone call delivered into her husband's hands was from his former wife, making some new, insolent demand upon his time, purse, or love, that she was turning sharply away.

"What rotten luck," Morgan exclaimed disgustedly. "The wire from the capital. By a shift in the supreme court calendar, that Bradley case comes up on Friday. I can be ready with my witnesses by then. I don't like to ask for another adjournment, because I'd like to get the Bradley case off my hands before the Blackhull trial reopens in January. But with the kid sick and all—"

His hesitation and the dark flush which accompanied it told Nan that the "and all" referred to Iris and all the complications which her unexpected return had brought into her husband's life.

"Curtis isn't dangerously ill," Nan reminded him coldly. "I think it's really quite lucky that you can dispose of the Bradley case before you have to go back into the Blackhull trial. You know you can trust me to take good care of Curtis."

"Of course, dear," he interrupted quickly, as if she had reminded him that it was not she, but Iris, who had made the child ill by stuffing him with chocolates and candied fruits. "I suppose there's nothing for it but to get Iris to put in a hectic two days getting hold of my witnesses. I wonder if you'd mind very much if I put in two or three hours at the office to-day? I'll have to go over the transcript of the first trial pretty thoroughly—"

"Of course you will," Nan agreed, still in that unnaturally cold voice. She wanted to act as if nothing stood between them, to give her usual warm, eager assistance, but Iris was between them now; there was no possible blinking of that fact. Until Morgan himself banished her. "But Nan, forced herself to add, as cheerfully as possible: 'I'll be glad to help, if you want to bring the records home.'"

She felt that Morgan's eyes, still fixed upon the telegram, were deliberately avoiding hers. His flush deepened. "I don't think that will be necessary, Nan. You'll have your hands full with the boy. What time are we to have dinner?"

"It was planned for two, so that Curtis might safely eat as much as he pleased, but now that he's ill, I can set the hour ahead to six, if you like."

Her jealous eyes told her that he was relieved. "Fine! That will give me several hours of good, hard work. Of course, if Curtis gets worse, or calls for me, I'll cut the work short and hurry home."

"I shan't telephone unless you're really needed," Nan promised. If he wanted the assurance that he would have time to slip in a Christmas Day visit with Iris, let him have it. She had always done everything in her power to make him happy. Why stop now?

When her husband was gone, Nan wandered into the drawing-room where the neglected Christmas tree still offered all its treasures. Morgan, obviously, had forgotten the tree. The seals were unbroken on the packages which contained her and Curtis's gifts for him.

Her steps, made very slow by the weariness of despair, Nan walked about the tree, untieing the gold and silver cord which bound the tissue-wrapped parcels tagged with her stepson's name. They made quite a formidable little pile, exclusive of the big toy automobile and the well-stocked tool chest. "For Curtis from Estelle," "For Curtis from Little Pat," "For Curtis from Maude and Big Pat," "For Curtis from his Father." High up on the tree, just below the big silver star of Bethlehem, Nan found a parcel she had not seen before. This time her intuition did not play her false. The card, which bore a highly colored picture of the Madonna and Child, was inscribed: "For my little lover, from his adoring Mother."

Banff Delights Trout Anglers

Banff Springs Hotel, Alta., Aug. 21.—This summer at Banff will go down to posterity as the fisherman's summer so excellent have been the catches of trout reported from all the open waters.

This is ascribed to the policy of the National Parks commissioner in closing and restocking the lakes that have given evidence of being fished out. As a result the trail rider of the Canadian Rockies will organize for next summer a ten-day fishing and camping trip with a promise of eight different fishing waters in the ten days.

On recent cross-country jaunt from Banff to Castle Mountain, the trail rider of phenomenal catches on the so-called Win Lakes, which were given up seven years ago by anglers but which now readily yield the limit of fifteen good-sized trout to those who know how to cast a fly.

Boy Prayed for Help in School Troubles

Little Francis Asbury trembled as his teacher came down the aisle toward his desk. He was terribly afraid of his teacher, who was a hard, cruel man. He thought that the way to teach boys was to punish them to make them remember.

Sometimes Francis was so frightened that he couldn't answer questions, and then the teacher struck him with a heavy ruler for being stupid.

Francis knew he would be called on next, and he knew that he wouldn't be able to recite. There was something about the lessons he didn't understand, and he was afraid to ask questions.

He was a very religious boy and believed God would always help him in time of trouble, so he bowed his head at his desk, closed his eyes, and made a quick little prayer that the teacher would not punish him for not knowing his lesson.

Francis Asbury, born 184 years ago to-day in England, became a missionary. It was he who established the Methodist Church in North America.

BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily And Little Katy

Copyright, 1929, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

By HOWARD R. GARIS

Once upon a time Mrs. Longears came to where Uncle Wiggily was sitting in the shade of the grapevine and said to him:

"We have a new little bunny girl!" "Good!" cried Uncle Wiggily, who loved children. "What have you named our new little bunny?"

"I haven't named her yet," answered the rabbit lady. "I thought I would leave that to you. What would you like to call her?"

Uncle Wiggily thought for a moment and then he asked:

"How about Katy?" "Katy is as nice a name as I could have picked out myself," said Mrs. Longears. "Come and see her and give her the name."

Uncle Wiggily looked at his new little bunny girl lying in her crib, and bending over her, whispered:

"Hello, little Katy!" "She is too small, yet, to understand what you say," spoke Mrs. Longears. "Well, she blinked her eyes at me," said the bunny uncle with a laugh, "so I think she knows what her name is going to be."

She thought someone was talking to her.

So little Katy came to live in the hollow stump where Baby Bunt, Jingle, and all the other forty-sixteen bunny boys and girls. And after a while, Katy grew until she wasn't so little and she could run around and have fun.

Now in the woods around Uncle Wiggily's bungalow were many birds, bugs and animals, and they made many noises. Some sang, some buzzed and others, like jolly fat pigs, grunted.

At first little Katy did not pay much heed to the noises of the woods and fields. But one day she wandered off by herself, and pretty soon she heard what sounded like some one saying:

"Drink your tea! Drink your tea!" "I would drink my tea if I had any to drink," said Katy, speaking out loud, for she thought surely some one was talking to her.

"Drink your tea! Drink your tea!" the voice sounded again.

Now, though Katy did not know this, it was a bird calling to her—a bird named the Chewink, whose song sounds exactly as if he were saying: "Drink your tea!"

"Oh, I'll drink my tea all right if I can find it," said Katy, and knowing no better she started off in the woods alone, thinking some fairy had a cup of tea ready for her. And as Katy hopped along she heard another voice saying:

"Sweet! Sweet! Sweet!" "Oh, yes, I like my tea sweet," laughed Katy.

Again, though she did not know it, this was a bird singing. "Sweet! Sweet! Sweet!" But it sounded like "sweet," as you can tell if you try it yourself.

Little Katy went into the deep, dark woods, always hearing, just ahead of her, the voices of the birds, one seeming to say: "Drink your tea," and the other: "Sweet! Sweet! Sweet!"

And then, all of a sudden, Katy was lost. She was all tangled in the deep woods and did not know which way to

To-morrow's Horoscope

THURSDAY, AUGUST 22, 1929

Conflicting planetary aspects make to-day an uncertain period in the direction of the stars, according to astrology.

The early morning is read as fortunate for women and their aspirations in business and in social relations.

This should be a fairly lucky wedding day making for financial progress and long domestic partnership.

There is a favorable sign for concerts and for interest in music. The rule is promising for artists.

Again farms and farming appear to be subject to malefic influences pressing disappointment and lack of profits.

There is a sinister star for religious organizations and serious church schisms are foretold.

New teachers from the Orient will give impetus to many cults, the seers prophesy. The interest will not be lasting.

Under this rule it is believed to be fortunate for those who sign leases or contracts. To-day it is supposed to be luckier to rent land than to buy it.

Newspapers and magazines should profit under this direction of the stars which seems to indicate an avid interest in reading.

Writers benefit by this same sign which is supposed to increase demand for the printed word.

Inventors may find this a disappointing planetary government, since under it they are likely to clash with capitalists and suffer from nerve-racking delays.

Aviators should be especially cautious to-day which may be most perilous for flying. Sudden storms in certain parts of the country are foretold.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year in which they will enjoy change and travel.

Children born on this day probably will be versatile in their talents. Many painters and orators have appeared under this sign.

John G. Gough, temperance lecturer, was born under this sign 1817. Carl Emil Bauer, marine painter, also celebrated it as a birthday.

go. The birds had flown away and she no longer heard them talking about sweet tea.

"Oh, dear!" sighed Katy. "I wish I was home. Who made me come away far off in these woods like this? Who did?"

And, from a tree a voice seemed to say:

"Katy did! Katy did!" "Yes, I guess I did it all myself," sobbed poor Katy. "Oh, dear, but I want to go home!"

About this time Uncle Wiggily missed his little girl rabbit and went to look for her. He met Jackie Bow Wow, who barked and said:

"I saw Katy go over in the woods." So Uncle Wiggily hopped to the woods and soon he heard voices calling and saying: "Katy did! Katy did!"

Uncle Wiggily knew these sounds came from a large, green bug, something like a grasshopper. His song sounds as if he were saying at times: "Katy did! And again 'Katy did!'"

"Maybe Katy is over near the Katy-dids," said Mr. Longears. So he hopped that way and there he found the poor, little lost rabbit girl who had gone looking for sweet tea when there wasn't any. But her Daddy took her home and she had an ice cream cone to make her cool.

"Don't run away any more," said Uncle Wiggily.

"No, I won't," Katy promised, but she did.

And if the rubber ball will bounce up and down and not bang the pussy cat's nose, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and Big Stickle.

AUTOIST SPEEDING FROM POLICE MEETS DEATH IN CRASH

Marmora, Ont., Aug. 21.—Endeavouring to evade police who were after them with a warrant for their arrest, Ben Archibald, twenty-three, was instantly killed and his brother, Alvin, thirty-five, was so seriously injured that little hope is held out for his recovery. The brothers were speeding along the highway with the police in hot pursuit when their light motor car crashed at full tilt into a ditch and ended in a mass of wreckage against a rail fence.

The officers, holding a warrant charging Ben Archibald with assault, instead of making arrests, rendered first aid to one victim and removed the body of the other from the twisted metal of the motor car.

One brother was thrown through the roof, the other was crushed behind the steering wheel.

Lord Luke of Pavenham Among 325 Passengers Traveling in First Cabin that the big freighter, conveyed by the Salvage King will leave Akutan for Seattle the first week in September.

Delayed in departure from San Francisco, it will be to-morrow night before the Canadian National freighter Canadian Rover docks here from California ports with 100 tons of general cargo for discharge at the Ogden Point piers.

To load 850,000 feet of lumber for San Pedro and other California ports, the steam schooner Claremont is expected at the C.P.R. mill wharf in the upper Inner Harbor to-morrow morning, according to King Brothers, local agents.

With a good list of round trip tourists, the C.P.R. coastal steamer Princess Maquinna will sail from the Belleville Street docks this evening at 11 o'clock for the west coast of Vancouver Island, calling at ports as far north as Queen's Cove.

Harry Barnes, former commodore of the Royal Victoria Yacht Club, is back at his desk after a cruise to the west coast of the Island aboard his yacht Minerva. He was accompanied by C. W. Lovell and G. Murray.

The Canadian National freighter Canadian Prospector will be here on August 27 to load 300,000 feet of Vancouver Island timber and a good cargo of general freight for Montreal, Quebec and Three Rivers. She will go to the Ogden Point piers.

Returning from a university cruise to Alaska, the liner Queen arrived in Seattle yesterday morning with 160 students from the University of Oregon's summer school. The Queen was here for three hours on her way north.

Outbound to ports in China, Japan and the Philippine Islands, the American Mail liner President McKinley will sail from the Rithet piers here on Saturday afternoon at 6 o'clock with a large passenger list and a capacity cargo of northwest products and overland freight. She will arrive from Seattle at 4 o'clock.

The next Canadian National freighter from the east will be the Canadian Ranger, which is expected at the Ogden Point piers next Tuesday, August 27, with 175 tons of general cargo from Montreal, Quebec and Three Rivers. She is now on her way up the coast from the Panama Canal.

Bound for Victoria and Seattle, the O.S.K. liner Alabama Maru will sail from Yokohama, Japan, and will arrive here on September 3, according to advance schedule in the hands of Rithet Consolidated Limited, local agents.

Workers of Yarrow's Limited yesterday hauled out the freighter-yacht Island Princess Tuesday for bottom cleaning and painting. She was put back to day alongside the outfitting wharf awaiting a buyer. She is owned by Capt. J. W. Hobbs of Victoria.

There were 240 passengers aboard when the liner Dorothy Alexander left the Rithet piers here last evening at 6 o'clock for Ketchikan, after a three-hour stay in the city during which time most of the passengers took sight-seeing drives around the business and residential districts.

WEST COAST SERVICE

The steamer Princess Norah will leave for Port Alice and way ports at 11:00 p.m. every Saturday.
The steamer Princess Maquinna will leave for Queen's Cove (Esperanza Inlet) and way ports at 11:00 p.m. every Wednesday.

With the largest passenger list of the year to Australia and New Zealand, the Canadian Australasian motor liner Aorangi is expected at the Rithet Piers to-night at 8 o'clock from Vancouver. She will sail two hours later for Honolulu, Suva, Auckland and Sydney.

The Aorangi was originally scheduled to dock here about 5 o'clock from Vancouver, but was held for three hours at the Mainland port awaiting the arrival of a train from the East, which was delayed near Yale early this morning, occasioning a delay of several hours. There were several passengers aboard the train bound for "down under" aboard the big motor liner. The train was expected in Vancouver about 3 o'clock, and the ship was to sail as soon as the passengers and mails were aboard.

In the three classes of the liner when she sails at 10 o'clock to-night will be 535 passengers, most of them destined to Auckland and Sydney. Joining at Honolulu will be 160 more passengers for the Antipodes. In the first cabin of the ship to-night will be 325 passengers, nearly the capacity of the liner, while in the second cabin will be 125 travelers and eighty-five in the third. Travel at this time of the year is usually routed from North America to Australia, and the Aorangi's list shows a large number of people returning home after spending holidays in Canada, the United States and in England.

IS WELL KNOWN

Among the first class passengers will be Lord Luke of Pavenham, widely known in Canada before his appointment for the peerage as Sir George Lawson-Johnston. Lord Luke is bound for New Zealand, although born in England he came to Canada when very young, his father, John Lawson-Johnston, founder of the business now known as Bovril Limited. When it was first founded in Montreal it was known as Johnston's fluid extract of beef. The business became so successful in a few years that it was found necessary to move the head office to London, in order to care for a growing world trade.

Lord Luke, besides being actively engaged in the Bovril interest, is a director of the Australian Mercantile Land & Finance Company of Sydney, and has for many years a director of The Daily Express.

SAN FRANCISCO SHIPPING

San Francisco, Aug. 21.—Following the findings of an investigation conducted Monday, Omond Svendsen, master of the lumber schooner Florence Olson which grounded on Point Reyes early Saturday, yesterday went on trial for inattention to duty. Svendsen pleaded not guilty and attributed the stranding of his ship to a dense fog. He explained his failure to cast the lead by saying he was sure of his position. The Florence Olson pulled off the rocks under own power after a three-hour struggle and proceeded to San Francisco.

Entering San Francisco Bay for the first time, the British steamer Gregalia arrived to-day from England. She is the latest addition to the Donaldson Line fleet and will participate in the company's Pacific coast-European service. The vessel, 9,500 tons deadweight, has a speed of fourteen knots. She will be followed in the trade by her sister ship, Sulairia, which is due here in October.

Shipments to this portion of Europe previous to this summer had been few and limited to special orders of high-grade materials.

Making New Orleans direct on this voyage, the Point Fermin of the Swayne & Hoyt Gulf Pacific Line will sail from Puget Sound August 24. The carrier docked to-day with a general cargo and will lift lumber, canned goods, general and newspaper at Sound cities.

SEATTLE SHIPPING

Seattle, Aug. 21.—Including a regular export lumber and moving in volume enough to indicate a steady and permanent demand, a new market for northwestern lumber with shipments averaging nearly 2,000,000 feet monthly has been built up to French ports during the past few months. B. K. Brown, Jr., district manager of the General S. Corporation, agents for the French Line, said yesterday.

Shipments to this portion of Europe previous to this summer had been few and limited to special orders of high-grade materials.

The ship had been beached by the captain and she is shown here with her bow deep in the sand, while her stern is out of water. The right-hand picture shows the Golden Forest after she was floated.

The above picture on the right, just received from Akutan Harbor, shows the Golden Forest being gradually lifted to the surface of the water by salvage equipment aboard the Salvage King, shown in the background. On the left is shown the Salvage King of Victoria alongside the freighter as the men aboard the rescue vessel rush work.
